

Dolbeer Death Records 1819-1874

JONATHAN DOLBEER BOOK

Jonathan Dolbeer was born in Rye, N.H. in 1773 and later moved with his family to the New Rye part of Epsom. For many years he was the clerk of the Epsom Congregational Church, and as such kept a record of deaths in the town. Upon his death in 1857, his nephew Calvin Dolbeer continued to record deaths in the town. The book covers the years from 1819 through 1874 and is mentioned in the history of Epsom's early settlers by John Mark Moses. The original was donated to the Epsom Historical Society and it remains in their care. Original spellings were copied, words in italics were not clear. Numbers following A- are the pages where the individual is found in the Epsom Cemetery Book.

NOTES FOR USE - Since names are copied as they appeared in the original, most spellings are not those you might expect.
