Rockingham Co, VA Church Records Located

by Ronald M. Moore, M.D.

A new discovery was recently made on the Rudolph and Catharine Mauk/Mock line and relates to the time they were living in Rockingham County, VA, and this is from a new book titled Early Church Records of Rockingham County, Virginia by F. Edward Wright. Mr Wright has compiled many books on early church records. This book is published in 1998 by Family Line Publications and cost about $11 plus shipping charges. Their address is: 65 East Main Street, Westminster, Maryland, 21157. The records which follow were copied as they are in the book and no attempt was made to correct spelling:

"Extracts from the minutes of Smith's Creek Baptist Church:

January 1779 - Bro. Daniel Mauke was brought before the church for fornication and was laid over till the next monthly meeting (excommunicated).

Saturday in Feb 1779 - Rudolph Mauke chosen for ordination (as deacon?).

1782 March: Bro. Mauke complained of Sister Elesabeth Whitman's disorderly way of living.

1st Saturday in Aug 1787 - Rudolph Mauke and Catharine his wife dismissed by letter; also his dau. Barbara dismissed."

For years, we have tried to find the church the Rudolph Mauk, (II) families attended while they lived in Rockingham County, VA and this is the first clue.

You will notice that in August 1787, Rudolph and Catharine Mauke were dismissed by letter along with their daughter Barbara. This date of 1787 is the date we had previously established that they made their trip to Kentucky Territory to the region of Bourbon County. Their daughter Barbara is the one who married Philip Kepplinger, 1 Jan 1784 in Rockingham County, VA. She was named as a daughter of Rudolph. The bondsman was John Kepplinger. Both Barbara and Philip Kepplinger as well as other children of Rudolph and Catharine Mauk/Mock made the trip with them from Rockingham Co, VA to Bourbon Co, KY Territory.

Several years ago, Steve Lapp, while visiting in Bourbon Co, VA, located some church records, some of which he copied and which seemed to indicate that they formed an early church in that area, and the church records referred to another church in Virginia that they belonged to, and seemed to have had some connection. The name of the Virginia Church was referred to as the "Cross Roads Church". This Smith Creek Baptist Church must have been the same one.

See Steve Lapp's related article on page 17

This adds one more bit of circumstantial evidence to show a close association between Daniel Mauk/Mock and Rudolph and Catharine Mauk/Mock. In this case, they belonged to the same church. It is my contention that this Daniel Mock is a son of Rudolph and Catharine Mock, although he was not named in Rudolph's 1817 will in Bourbon County, KY.

There is evidence that Daniel Mauk/Mock made the move with them to Bourbon County, KY in 1787, but probably didn't live there long and moved on to Nelson Co, KY, to an area that became Washington Co, KY in 1792 when that county was formed and Kentucky gained statehood.

The evidence used to establish the 1787 date the Mauk families moved to Kentucky was the 1787 Personal Property Tax List which showed Rudolph, Daniel, Jacob and George Mauk and a later list the same year revealed the same Mauk names with a statement that showed them to be tax delinquent and "gone to Kentucky". They were also on a 1789 tax list but were again stated to be tax delinquent.

Daniel Mock, Sr married Nancy Agness Marshall, daughter of James Marshall, also of Augusta and Rockingham Co, VA. Although their marriage record has never been located, it is estimated this must have occurred in Virginia circa 1780. James Marshall, Sr was married to Elizabeth and they lived in Brocks Gap, Augusta Co, VA, and later Rockingham Co, VA, in the same locality where the Mocks are believed to have lived. James Marshall, Sr died in 1778 and after his death, Rudolph Mock, Sr was named as guardian of the younger Marshall boy, James Marshall, Jr. George Lewis and Rudolph Mock, "guardian of James", gave consent for the marriage of James Marshall, Jr to Elizabeth Lewis in 1788 in Rockingham Co, VA. I question that date and believe it was probably 1787 or earlier since the Mocks had already left for Kentucky by 1788.

Rudolph Mauk and Catharine sold land to Daniel Mauk, before they moved to Kentucky, as evidence by two deeds recorded in Rockingham Co, VA. We have speculated that maybe this land transfer satisfied his inheritance in some way so that he was not named in his will.

The evidence for Daniel Mock being in Bourbon Co, KY is a record that was first located by Steve Lapp, and found in a book called the Bourbon County Scrapbook, where there is a description of the first petition of Citizens of Bourbon County to the Virginia Assembly on 27 Oct 1788 for inspection of tobacco on Licking Creek. One of the signers of that petition was Daniel Mauk. From there he was next found in Nelson County Kentucky Territory tax lists in 1790 listed as Daniel Maugh and in 1791 as Daniel Mock.

It appears that this Smith Creek Baptist Church was probably one of the Primitive Baptist Churches like the Mill Creek Church which is now in Page Co, VA and also known as the Mauck Meeting House. The near-by White House Church was another one that belonged to this group of early Primitive German Baptist Churches.

In the book, Massanutten, by Harry Strickler, there are many references to the Smith Creek Baptist Church and it appears to have been located in New Market, which at one time was known as "Cross Roads" and actually is now in Shenandoah Co, VA.

There was a congregation there as early as 6 Aug 1756, the date of its organization, and was taken into the Philadelphia Baptist Association on 12 Oct 1762. It remained until the Ketocton was organized in Virginia 19 Aug 1766.

The Linville Church was organized about the same time and was closely associated with the Mill Creek and the White House Churches. The Church at Smith Creek appeared to go by other names though the years which included, the North River of Shenandoah. One author has noted that the Smith Creek Church and the Linville Church, at least for a period of time, shared the same facilities and met on alternate Sundays. These Churches later became a part of the Ebenezer Association of Baptist churches. More details about these churches is said to be recorded in Semple's History of the Baptist Churches in Virginia. Similar Baptist organizations are said to have been in Culpeper Co, VA as well as Fauquier Co, VA.

This record of excommunication of Daniel Mauke from the church is extremely interesting, and perhaps the reason we have never found him to be a member of any later churches. He is my 4 gr grandfather and Rudolph and Catharine Mock are thought to be my 5 gr grandparents. This Daniel Mauk/Mock who was in Rockingham Co, VA is thought to probably be a nephew of the Daniel Mauck who died in Shenandoah Co, VA in 1807 and who was married to Barbara Harnsberger and Rebecca Baker.

There are still many unanswered questions about this family and it is hoped that more records will eventually be located that will help to further identify them.

Cooper's Run Church in Bourbon County, Kentucky

Excerpts from original minutes.

Transcribed by Steve Lapp.

The minute book I partially photocopied in Paris, KY is for "The Church of Jesus Christ At Cooper's Run" - Minutes of Business Meetings 1787 - 1866. (two volumes) This was clearly a Baptist church, probably Primitive Baptist, but names were not as well defined at this early time.

Augustine Eastin was the first minister, from the Shenandoah Valley. (See Web Page at:

<http://members.aol.com/Beastin498/d119.htm>)

Barbary Kiplinger was admitted by letter of transfer in May 1791. In the roster there is a column for "when dismissed". Next to Barbary's name in this column is just "removed", with no date. There is a third column for "when died"; in this column next to Rudy is just "Dead" with no date. There is nothing for Caty Mock in columns two and three.

"At a Church Meeting held at the Meeting House Saturday July 9th 1791 after prayer proceeded to business.....(two sentences later)..... Rudolph Mock and Caty his wife presents a letter from the Baptist Church at the Crofs Roads in Shanandoo County And at their request was received into Fellowship."

Here are some other excerpts from the journal:

End of Quote

Some day I hope to transcribe all of what I photocopied; I only wish I had photocopied every single page but it was old script on old paper and I was pressing my library privilege to photocopy any of it.

I do not believe the original journal has ever been transcribed. I don't think very many people are even aware that it exists, in a dusty pile in the basement library of the old "Duncan Tavern" in Bourbon Co. KY.

Joseph and Sarah Holbrook Mauk Family

I really appreciate receiving the MFH as well as having access to the immense amount of information now shown on the Mock website. I cannot imagine the time and effort that you and others contribute to this.

I also appreciate the Working Chart (#22) that you sent me a year or so ago when I first subscribed to MFH. I notice that this chart is now shown on the website and perhaps I can assist with providing you some additional information for the small part of it which I am familiar.

Please understand, though, I am still a bit of a novice at genealogical research. Unfortunately, much of my information is not as well documented as I would like it to be.

Where I can be of help is the family line under 1.2.3.2.1 - Samuel Mauk (son of Joseph Mauk and Sarah "Sally" Holbrook). What I know is as follows:

1.2.3.2.1.C Beulah Mauk (my grandmother) is listed as the last child of Samuel Mauk and Darcus Delilah Harper. This is not correct.

Her full name was Beulah May Mauk - b. 24 Mar 1905, Stark, Elliott Co., KY; d. 18 Jan 1968, Muncie, Delaware Co., IN (these dates are shown on her gravestone and I know to be correct). She was born out-of-wedlock to Minnie B. Mauk (daughter of Samuel and Delilah) and Joel Crockett Kegley b. 17 Jan 1863; d. 30 Aug 1930 who was married at the time to Minnie's sister, Nan Mauk. I presume Nan Mauk may be the same person shown on the chart as Nancy Jane Mauk (1.2.3.2.1.3), but the chart lists Nancy Jane's date of death as 22 Sep 1878. This is probably in error.

I have a copy of Minnie's obit from the 1943 Morehead, KY newspaper and one of the surviving sisters was listed as Mrs. Nan Kegley.

Beulah, who used Mauk as her given name, appears in the 1910 Elliott Co., KY census in the Samuel Mauk household, but as Beulah Kegley, gr-daughter, age 5. Interestingly, her mother Minnie was not shown in the household at that time. The 1920 Elliott Co., KY census lists her in the John and Minnie Barker household, but does not give a different last name.

The chart lists Beulah's marriage to Sam Green. That is correct, but it was her second marriage. The first marriage was to Clifford "Dick" Tuttle.

Minnie B. Mauk's gravestone is in Brown Cemetery in Morehead, KY and gives her birth as 23 Jun 1887 (the chart gives 26 Jun, but I'm not sure which is correct). The gravestone and obit gives her death as 4 Mar 1943. The marriage to John L. Barker shown on the chart is correct.

As a side note, this is the same John L. Barker listed on the chart as married to Lillie Mauk (daughter of William Mauk), Minnie's cousin. Both John and Lillie are shown in the William Mauk household in the 1910 census. It is only understanding that Lillie died during child birth shortly thereafter.

Alpha Mauk b. 7 Mar 1884; d. 20 Oct 1960; m. 25 Oct 1905 Morel Worley Hall (marriage date from Rowan Co., KY Gen Web site, birth and death dates from gravestone at Brown Cemetery, Morehead, KY)

Reason G. Mauk b. 14 Mar 1890; d. 7 Jan 1967; m. 1913 Mary Lee Dean (birth and death dates from Brown Cemetery, Morehead, KY, marriage date from 1991 Morehead KY newspaper article)

The marriage date of 13 Sep 1851 shown on the chart for Samuel Mauk and Darcus Delilah Harper cannot be correct. Both of their gravestones are on a hilltop opposite their old homestead (which is still standing) in Stark, Elliott Co., KY. The gravestone states Delila D. Mauk (I believe it was actually Darcus Delilah) b. 13 Sep 1850 - d. 17 Mar 1939. The marriage date, based on census information, would have been ca. 1869-70.

Again, I greatly appreciate the effort you have put forth on these charts and for now having them on-line. Hopefully my input will help you refine one little piece of it.

Soldier George descendant

I have very much enjoyed looking through your Mock information. [on the Internet]. On chart #11 you show John George and Magdalena Mack, possible parents of "Soldeir George", but not documented. I also have never found such documentation.

Our family oral tradition claims that very parentage and that Hans (Johannes?) George Mock came from Rotterdam on the ship "The Bawley" 23 Oct 1752. From the Library of Congress I did confirm that name (Hans George) on a ship registry. There is tradition that a group from a church came over together, possibly with one minister.

I am a Mock descendant and used to preach at the old "Mock" church near North Webster, IN which was built adjacent to the John Mock cemetery (which family lore says started with the burial of an infant.)

Civil War Letters by Robert Moffett Mock

Submitted by Dale Mitchell

Robert Moffett Mock was the son of John and Mary David Mock of Bourbon Co., KY and Albia, Monroe Co., IA. Robert married 25 Feb 1858 in Monroe Co., IA Sarah M. Callen, ancestors of Dale Mitchell. Dale has transcribed a series of letters that Robert wrote to his wife, Sarah between 1861 and 1866 while serving in the Civil War.

State of Mississippi, Pine Ridge, June the 19th, 1862

Dear Wife,

I again take my pen in hand to write you a few more lines to let you know that I am well at present and hoping when these few lines comes to hand that they may find you enjoying the blessings. I received your letter dated June the 3rd and was glad to hear you was well. We are now camped south of Corinth 4 miles and I expect we will remain here for some time probably all summer. I wrote in my last letter that we was going to Richmond. I think we will not go. We have got a splendid campsite ground here and a splendid spring of good water. After we get our tents up we can live like we was at home. When we are camped we don't have but very little to do.

We have done some very hard marching through the hot sun and the dust parts. Of the time we had plenty of mud. Several of the boys lost their shoes going through the swamps. When the rebels left Corinth they left us several barrels of flour and several barrels of beef. We had plenty for awhile. The rebels stacked their guns and wagons up in a field that they had no use for and burned them up and they burned a great many of their cannons to keep us from using them. I could stand the soldiering pretty well if we had plenty all the time to eat and you have plenty of every thing at home.

You said you was going to sell the cow. If you can sell the cow do so. I wrote in my last two letters that you could sell the cow and if that would not do until I could send some money you might sell the wagon. I think you could get some goods of some of the merchants and give the wagon for security. I steady agree deal the way you have gone along rather than to have you to suffer. You might sell the mules and wagon. I would not like to part with the mules with out you can't get along without it any way. I think I will bring two good mules home with me when I come if nothing happens and then I can have a good team.

You must hold yourself () to move out west when I get back in Albia. I am not going to stay there very long. I () out where () and sheep () can get a long better than any () for mine is the easiest work I can find. I think we will all get to go home about Christmas. The rebels is whipped now but they won't give it up. This is all I have to write. Direct your letter to H?(town) in Tennessee 17th Iowa volunteers in care of Captain Craig. Moffett Mock

Camp near Grand Junction, Mississippi

Dear Wife,

I will now drop you a few lines to let you know that I am hearty and well and hoping when these lines come to hand that they may find you all well. I received your letter today dated October the 30th and was glad to hear that you was all well.

I expect before you get this letter you will begin to think that I am not going to write for this is the first letter that I have written this month.

We left Corinth on the second day of this month and have been on the march almost day and night every since. We have marched altogether about 150 miles and each man carrying a big load on his back although we have had a pleasant trip. I stood the march very well myself. Better than a great many did. Dailey (younger brother Simon) stayed at Corinth. He was not hardly able to stand the march. I told him to write a letter home so as to let you know what I was doing. Whether he did or not I can't tell. He don't care much whether he writes or not.

We are now in twenty miles of Holly Springs. We went out to the city yesterday and found the rebels much too strong for us. We had to leave town in a short time after we arrived there. They was camped close to the town so as to get us in to town so they could surround us and take us prisoners. They was not hardly smart enough to catch us. We retreated from the town in haste. We only had five regiments while they had seventy five regiments. We have here at this camp more men than they have. Our brigade was sent there to see how strong they was. We came close of getting captured if we had of stayed in town one hour longer we would of all been captured. We are going to move on them shortly. When they hear of us all coming on them they will be sure to run. If they stand we will give them a good whipping for we have the men to do it. We have about one hundred thousnad fighting men.

I received a letter and two papers the night before we left and have not time to write. The letter that I received today had two stamps on it.

I am very sorry to hear that you are going to loose Natch. You must not give him up under no consideration. I paid five dollars for Natch. You must not give him up at all. If I was there that man would not get him. I expect he never owned the dog at all. Tell the man that he can not get him. I don't know as I have anything more so no more. But remain your affectionate husband until death.

Virginia Marriage Index, 1740-1850

submitted by Kathy Busby

Throughout the 18th and well into the 19th Century, Virginia was one of the most populous states in the Union, being home to as many as 1.2 million persons at any one time. This collection of marriage records includes the names of over 300,000 men and women married in the state between 1740 and 1850. In addition to providing the names of bride and groom, researchers will find the date of marriage and county in which the ceremony was performed. For those seeking married ancestors from Virginia, this database can be a valuable source of information.

* It appears that Rebecca Mock (1807-1883) is the mother of H.C. Mock, and that the burial of H.C. Mock is indeed Henry Crawford Mock. I've looked for an earlier Mock who may have died who could have been married to Rebecca Mock and there does not appear to be one that fits in these cemeteries. This family moved from Dooly Co., GA to Early Co. sometime between 1840-1850. Rebecca was living alone with her son Henry C. Mock in 1850 in Early Co., so if there were a Mock husband who died, it would likely have been between 1843 to 1850. If he was either illegitimate or if his father died, there should be guardianship records for him in the courthouse, naming his father.

Food for Thought

Maag/Seitz/Mauk Connection

by Barbara Dittig

While going through old e-mails and updating the Rudolph/Daniel lines (Mock Chart #23A), I came across a familiar name, not previously connected with this family line - Lewis Seitz. The Seitz family was written up in MFH Vol. IV, #3 Summer 1995, in connection with Michael Maag and Susanna Charlotte Walz.

Susanna's mother, Anna Dorothea Welck b. 23 May 1710 Dammhof bei Adelshofen, married (1st) in 1729 J. Andreas Seitz. He was previously married to Susanna Barbara Maier and they had one child, Johann Dietrich Seitz b. 1725. J. Andreas and Anna Dorothea had 7 children, one being Johannes Seitz b. 30 Jan 1740; d. 1793 York Co., PA. Anna Dorothea Welck Seitz married (2nd) George Heinrich Waltz/Walz who died 23 Nov 1782, a citizen of Adelshofen. Anna Dorothea and George Heinrich had one child, Susanna Charlotte Walz b. 6 Oct 1746. Susanna married J. Michael Maag from Ittlingen.

Michael and Susanna came to America in 1764 with Johannes Seitz (Susanna Charlotte's half brother and Anna Catharine, his wife.

Here is where it gets a bit confusing. Johannes also brought with him the child, Ludwig/Lewis Welck Seitz, b. 5 Jan 1763, son of Maria Anna Dorothea Welck and J. Philippe von Gemmingen. They were not married. Maria Anna Dorothea was the daughter of Johann Michael Welck who was a brother to Anna Dorothea, Susanna Charlotte's mother.

Lewis Seitz married abt. 1788 in York Co., PA Anna Beery. They went to the Shenandoah Valley in VA soon after they were married and then emigrated to Fairfield Co., OH.

Lewis Seitz Jr., b. 1802, the 11th child to this family. He married 1st Barbara Kagy. His 2nd marriage, 16 Jan 1849, was to Mrs. Martha Hershberger. Martha was the daughter of David and Sally (Stroup) Mauk, David, a son of Daniel and Rebecca (Baker) Mauk.

Could there be a possible link between these two Mock/Mauk families or is it just a coincidence that Lewis Seitz Sr. and Lewis Seitz Jr. were in one way or another connected to the Michael Maag family and the Mauk family of Shenandoah, VA??

Queries

I received the winter issue yesterday and have read it all and enjoyed.

The "Decendants of Gottlieb Mauk" was written in 1975 Copies have been in SLC, Ft Wayne, Ind, Winchester, Va and libraries in Kansas and Illinois, all these years, and no one has ever come up with proof that Gottlieb Mauk was the father of Mathius and Cornelius or added anything officially at the upper end of the line. I would appreciate any info on Gottlieb.

My name and address is now incorrect in the book. It is :

The new issue of Pennsylvania Mennonite Heritage has an article about Lydia Stauffer Sauder Mellinger, which mentions "Revival leaders such as Noah H. Mack..." and later describes him as a school teacher-evangelist. "[1899?]when the school teacher-evangelist Noah H. Mack contemplated moving to the mission to supervise its budding agricultural and industrial activities, his wife Elizabeth insisted they were not going to the mountain alone. It was she who invited their neighbor, Lydia Stauffer, to join the Macks on the mission field..." Noah appears several times in this article, since Lydia married his nephew Levi Sauder.

Perhaps Noah and Elizabeth Mack belong to somebody? I hadn't realized till I saw this article that any of the Macks were Mennonite. Apparently Noah Mack is featured in some other Mennonite articles, since citations include Noah H. Mack, "Welsh Mountain Industrial Mission," unpublished ms in Papers of Bishop Noah H. George Mack/Mock line of Fairfield Co., OH

I am quite excited at the moment after having perused the Mock family site (on the Internet). I'm helping a friend, Kurt Maddox, start his family history. His mother is Ada Lee Mock Maddox b. 6 Mar 1943 Sand Springs, OK, d/o (David) McKinley Mock b. 11 Jan 1901 Harrison, Boone Co., AR; d. 31 Jul 1969 Poplar Bluff, MO and Viney Lee Johnson. McKinley Mock was a son of David and Ora Mock. This elder David Mock b. OH Sept 1852 according to the 1900 census of Boone Co., AR and born 1845 according to his age on the 1910 Census. He married (1) unknown; m. (2) Ora ___ in Boone Co., AR.

The 1910 census of Rogerstown, Benton Co., AR. lists David, head of household, age 65, b. OH, father b. PA; mother b. VA.; m. 10 years; wife Ora L. age 35, b. IN. Their children: David M., 9, b. AR, Pinkie O. (dau.) age 6, b. MO, Asa (son) age 4, b. MO, Florian B., (son) age 0, b. AR.

David (head of household above) supposedly d. ca 1915 when his son, McKinley (listed David M. in census) was about 13 years old. Ora adopted out all of the children except McKinley, who ran away to keep from being adopted out. I checked Benton Co AR records and can't find this, so I'm thinking they may have moved elsewhere before he died, possibly back to Boone Co.

In looking for Benton Co., AR records, I ran across John Daniel Mock of Rogerstown (now Rogers), AR. I believe this is the same John Daniel Mock mentioned in the Jacob Mack/Catherine Drumbauer chart (#12).

This chart in abbreviated form shows:

1.3 - Jacob Mack b. 1745; m. Catharine Drumbauer

1.3.1 - Michael Mack

1.3.2 - George Mack b. 1778 PA; d. 1858 Berne Twp., Fairfield Co., OH; m. Elizabeth (Coons) not proven.

1.3.2.3 - Robert Mock b. 1810 PA; d. 6 Nov 1850 Crawford Co., IL; m. Margaret Rockham

13231 - David Mock m. Julia Geer 1871; to

Arizona

13232 - John Daniel Mock m. Mary J. James 1868; to Arizona

Listed by both John Daniel and David Mock above is "to Arizona". I think this should probably be "to Arkansas", and obviously, I think that Kurt's ancestor, David Mock is the same David Mock as above that married Julia Greer in 1871. Obviously, if it is the right one, David must have been born prior to his father's (Robert's) death in 1850.

Do you have further information on David Mock that might confirm or contradict this idea?

Descendant of Peter Mock

This is what I have found to date on the ancestors of my Frederick K. Mock I believe that this line goes back to Peter & Elizabeth Mock of Bedford Co., PA. Their son: Adam Mock b. 1785 Bedford Co. m. Mary Eve Smith b. 18 Apr 1795; d. 1 Feb 1868 and is buried in the Old Osterburg Cemetery located between Osterburg and St. Clarisville on Route 869. Bedford Co., PA.

My cousin searched some cemeteries in Bedford Co. and found in Fairview Cem. a Adam Mock interred Oct. 1865. Could this be the same Adam Mock?? These are their children of Adam and Mary Eve:

1. George Mock died 10 Mar 1891; m. Mary E. Helsel.

2. Margaret Mock

3. Rebecca Mock

4. Rosanna Mock born abt 1815; married John Long

*5. Peter Mock born Oct 25, 1825 PA; m. Margaret

Stombaugh/Stambaugh 25 April 1847

*They were from St. Clair Twp Pa. from the Bedford County Archives volume 5 these are my great great grandparents. Margaret was born 1826, died July 23, 1869 daughter of Frederick Stambaugh, and Rosanna Dively.

In the 1850 Bedford Union Twp. Census, Peter Mock & Margaret are listed with children John A. and Adam. In 1860 Blair Co Greenfield PA Census Peter Mock & Margaret list their children John, Adam, Fred, David, Calvin. In the 1870 Blair Co, Altoona, 6th Ward Census Peter Mock then was married to a started out to look like Susanna but then changed it to Rosanna with children, Adam, Frederick, David, Calvin, Sarah, Albert.

I found a Peter S. Mock listed in the Altoona Pa Directory 1878-1879 Laborer bds Hickory ave bel Third. This is what I have so far on the children of Peter Mock & Margaret Stombaugh.

1. John Jackson Mock born 18 May 1848. Bapt. 7 Oct 1848 Old Log Church Lutheran & German Reformed, married Sarah Jane? born 1848 d. 8 Jan 1893 at age 44 yrs, bur. in Fairview Cemetery John married 2nd Margaret Tate no proof on her.

2. Adam Mock born 23 Feb 1850 PA, bapt. 1 April 1850 Old Log Church

3. Frederick K. Mock we spell it Mauk born 5 Nov 1852 Bedford PA. died 26 June 1929 Grand Rapids. MI.:

married 1880 Blair Co., PA Carrie Elizabeth Elway.

I have not found a record of this marriage. Frederick K. Mauk was a Carpenter by trade and is listed in the family bible along with his children and wife and other Mocks.

Frederick & Carrie went to the Pineroft United Methodist Church. At the base of the church window it has these names on it, Fred K Mauk & Mary V.Elway ,by family members he was a very good Carpenter. I understand that the Pineroft United Methodist Church is still in operation but don't know how to get an address for the church to writeto them.

This is information my cousin found on the Mocks from the Old Log Church at Osterburg Lutheran and German Reformed Batismal Records:

World War I Civilian Draft Registrations

<<http://www.ancestry.com>

This data base is often quite helpful if you find an ancestor there, it will generally give his exact date of birth and other bits of information about him.

Each new Ancestry database is generally free for the first week to ten days, then it requires a subscription to access. You can have an automatic e-mail news sent to you which comes each day and will tell you which databases have been added for that day. That way, it is not necessary to go to that web site each day, but you can go when you see an interesting database you want to check out. That way you will know when the free ones appear and expect them to be free for only ab out a week.

I have made a few changes on the Mock Home Page mainly pertaining to the database links. I have fixed it so that you can easily access them without having to go to the first page and linking to the databases. There are probably at least 20 or more links to the web databases which I consider to be the best and which I use on a nearly daily basis. A few of these are subscription but most have some free access, and others are entirely free. I have my system set for when I start my Internet browser which is generally Netscape or the Internet Explorer, it goes directly to the page that contains the genealogy database links that I consider to be most helpful. Be sure the case is copied exactly as it appears here. That URL is:

Ship Sites

There are at least three web sites that are particularly useful for information about the ships our ancestors came to America on. They are:

<http://www.fortunecity.com/littleitaly/amalfi/13/ships.htm>
cimorellia.com/pie/emigrate/emigmenu.htm

Also, the Dutch Emigration Trilogy currently has 300 links to passenger list information from 1620 until 1927 at their site: <http://www.xs4all.nl/~mailme/jolanda/enmain.html>

Ruddells & Martins Station Historical Assoc.

The Ruddells and Martins Station Historical Association was officially formed by a group of dedicated people interested in preserving the early history of this area in Kentucky. The following are excerpts from the first official meeting.

"The meeting was opened with a discussion of a name for our group. Various names were discussed as well as the correct spelling for Ruddell or Ruddle.

Because Ruddell's seems to be where the most suffering occurred we placed that name first. After a motion was made and seconded a vote was taken and we finally decided on the name: Ruddell's and Martin's Stations Historical Association.

Bob Francis is our Archives Chairman. He is an Army Chaplain at Eustis, Va. and does an excellent job. His Email is darby@visi.net.

He was recently chosen to handle the Bourbon County Archives at Duncan Tavern in Paris, Ky.

We are compiling information almost daily. much of which has not been published such as lists of the prisoners and their families. See: RUDDLESFORT-1@rootsweb.com

As a person interested in Ruddell's & Martin's you are welcome to join us. We have no dues at this time. Membership is by Donation in the amount you choose or are comfortable with. We are a nonprofit organization and all moneys are for direct expenses of the Association. Our goal is to perpetuate the history of the two forts and to commemorate the memory of those who suffered so greatly because of the attack. Checks to:

Editor's Note: I have included this article because of the number of Mock Family Historian members who are researching in the Bourbon County area.

I belong to this Ruddlesfort web site and have found it extremely interesting. Since there are Mocks buried in the cemetery in Ruddell's Mills, I wrote to Don Lee expressing my interest in donating to the association. He replied saying when making a donation they could earmark the funds for Cemetery Preservation. Isaac Ruddell's grave and the cemetery at Martin's Station would be the top priority. He also was aware that Mock, Moock, or Mouk was a name common in early Campbell Co., KY.

Julia Ardery's Will Abstracts from Bourbon Co. mentions many early families. web page address is: http://www.shawhan.com/local_root_folder/willabstracts.html
