

SPRING

MARCH
APRIL
MAY

CARRACK COUSINS NEWSLETTER

VOL. VII, NO. 3

Published / 4 times yearly membership $12.50

---

Agnes Curtis Jones

1 April 1989

FAMILY GROUP SHEET

HUSBAND: Peter CARMICKE/CARMICK/CARMACK
 BORN:
 MARR: 16 Oct 1713 Salem, N.J., NJ
 DIED: 20 Jan 1759 Salem Co NJ
 BURIED: Friends Cemetery, Salem Co NJ
 OCC: Merchant NOTE: from- Pa. Genealogies
 FATHER:
 MOTHER:

WIFE: Sarah HALL/ BRADING
 BORN: 18 Feb 1689/0 Salem Co NJ
 DIED: 27 Oct 1748 Salem Co NJ
 BURIED: Friends Cemetery, Salem Co NJ
 OCC: housewife NOTE: Married 1st. Nathaniel Brading, 31-10-1705, Salem, N.J.
 FATHER: William HALL born ____
 MOTHER: Elizabeth PILL born ____; occ. housewife.

1 : NAME: John CARMICK
 M : BORN: 17 Aug 1714 Salem Co NJ
 : MARR:
 : DIED: 27 May 1754 Salem Co NJ
 : BUR: Friends Cemetery, Salem Co NJ

2 : NAME: Elizabeth CARMICK
 F : BORN: 14 Feb 1716/7 Salem Co NJ
 : MARR:
 : DIED: 13 Feb 1757 Phila. Co PA
 : BUR: Christ Church Cemetery, Phila. Co PA
 : HUSB: Thomas CAMPBELL
 : BORN: DIED:

3 : NAME: Stephen CARMICK
 M : BORN: 31 Jan 1718/19 Salem Co NJ
 : MARR: 10 Apr 1755 NY
 : DIED: 26 Jun 1774 Phila Co PA
 : BUR: Christ Church Cemetery, Phila. Co PA
 : WIFE: Anna Christina KOCH
 : BORN: 19 Jul 1735 DIED: 22 Sep 1797

4 : NAME: Sarah CARMICK
 F : BORN: 15 Jan 1721/2 Salem Co NJ
 : MARR: by 1754
 : DIED: 2 Jul 1761 Phila. Co PA
 : BUR: Christ Church Cemetery, Phila. Co PA
 : HUSB: Richard FARMER
 : BORN: DIED:

5 : NAME: Clementina CARMICK
 F : BORN: 26 Oct 1724 Salem Co NJ
 : MARR:
 : DIED: 24 May 1728 Salem Co NJ
 : BUR: Friends Cemetery, Salem Co NJ

6 : NAME: unknown CARMICK
 F : BORN: 24 May 1728 Salem Co NJ
 : MARR:
 : DIED: 24 May 1728 Salem Co NJ
 7 : NAME: unknown CARMACK
 F : BORN: Salem Co NJ

FAMILY GROUP SHEET

HUSBAND: Arthur CARMACK

BORN: by 1720

MARR:

DIED: 1775 ? NJ

NOTE: from Charles Shepard Papers/ located Gloucester Co., N.J.

FATHER:

MOTHER:

WIFE:

BORN:

DIED:

FATHER:

MOTHER:

1 : NAME: William CARMACK

M : BORN: NJ

: MARR:

: DIED: NJ

: WIFE: Mary GINKINS

: BORN: DIED:

2 : NAME: David CARMACK

M : BORN: by 1755 NJ

: MARR:

: DIED: 1813 Venago Township, Crawford Co PA

: WIFE: Hannah LECORY

: BORN: 1747 DIED: 1825

3 : NAME: Jonathan CARMACK

M : BORN:

: MARR:

: DIED:

4 : NAME: Jacob CARMACK

M : BORN: NJ

: MARR:

: DIED:

5 : NAME: Elizabeth CARMACK

F : BORN: NJ

: MARR:

: DIED:

: HUSB: Joseph YOUNG

: BORN: DIED:

GEORGE CARMACK

Number 2. David Carmack, See Vol. V, No. 2, CARMACK COUSINS
David family line of George Washington Carmack.

Number 3. Jonathan Carmack, we have two Jonathan Carmack's, Jonathan living in Overton Co., TN 1830, died in Missouri; Jonathan listed on 1800 Campbell Co., Ky. Census. Comparing ages above it looks more likely this could be Jonathan listed on 1800 Campbell Co. Ky. Census.

Continued from Vol. V, No 2, Dec. 1988; George Washington Carmack

On August 17, 1896, one of the most startling and far reaching discoveries in history took place the cry was heard clear cross the continent, "One hundred dollars to the pan!"

This discovery poured into the exchequer of the Canadian Government such a huge sum of royalties for the gold taken out that it added materially to the prosperity of that country. It also built large cities, established lines of transportation and traffic, opened the gates of the Northern Empire and peopled the vast and lonely; land with a sturdy, energetic, preserving population.

After traveling over ridges and over mountains and going a couple of miles further down the creek I began to get a little gold. Then I became more careful in prospecting, following around each bend of the creek looking for bed-rock.

After half a mile below the fork of the creek that we had followed up before, as we were walking along a high bank of the right "limit," where the creek made a sharp bend to the right, we ran hard up against the hill. I was ahead (George Washington) about fifty feet up from the water's edge. I stopped and looked down the bank and there I saw a long narrow strip of bed-rock, about a hundred feet long and from ten to twelve feet wide. Now here was the very thing we were looking for! Waiting until my two companions caught up to me, I pointed down to the strip of bed-rock and said, "Look down there, boys, if this creek is good for anything at all, we sure ought to find gold down there."

Throwing off my packs, I walked down to the rim, and as soon as I reached it I stopped and looked down. My heart skipped a beat. After rubbing my eyes with the back of my hand to wipe away a misty film that enveloped the pupils, I reached down and picked up a nugget about the size of a dime. I put it between my teeth and bit at it like a newsboy who had found a quarter in the street. Looking up at my two companions who had discarded their packs and were sitting on the bank watching me, I held up the nugget between my thumb and forefinger and shouted, "Hi yu gold! bring down the pan and the shovel. Hi yak."

As it was getting late and we were tired and hungry. For five days we had been traveling over niggerheads and dry muskegs, forcing our way through thick tangles of devil club, stunted birch and spruce thickets, getting very little rest of sleep.

After roasting some of our bear meat and making a pot of tea, we ate our supper. Then we sat around the fire and smoked our pipes. After the pipes were out the two Indians, sitting with their blankets over their shoulders, their lean, bronze feathers lit up by the bright, gleaming camp fire, began to chant a wind, weird song of praise to the Great Spirit.

They sang of the many journeys we had made together, over silent lakes and rivers, of the burning summer and freezing winter, the silent trails, the hunting of the moose and caribou, of our feasts and famines, and even of the weird shadows of the tall spruce trees around our camp fire, ending with a loud, gladsome burst of our GREAT DISCOVERY. Then they rolled themselves in their blankets and were soon playing the tired man's duet.

In all that eleven years of strenuous, unceasing battle with the unsubdued Northland, I had imbibed a grim optimism, which found expression in undertaking to accomplish things which seemed at the time almost impossible of achievement. At last my hopes were about to be realized.

I was getting sleepy, so I rolled into my blanket and lay looking at the scintillating stars, gleaming in the great arching dome of the unclouded Yukon sky. a falling meteor flashed for an instant across the heavens, then disappeared, and then I fell into a dreamless sleep.

At the break of day we were up, eating our meager breakfast, and washed it down with a cup of coffee, without sugar or milk. Then, taking my hand ax, I went out into the center of the flat to a small spruce tree and blazed it on the up and down stream sides. With a pencil, I wrote on the up-stream side, this notice:

"TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN;
"I do, this day, locate and claim, by right of discovery, five hundred feet, running up stream from this notice. Located this 17th. day of August, 1896." "G. W. Carmack"

Then taking a fifty-foot tape line, which I had in my pack, we measured off five hundred feet up stream, as a discovery claim, then five hundred feet more, as one about discovery, for Jim. Then going back, I measured off five hundred feet for myself by right of location, then five hundred feet as two below discovery for Charley. Then going back to a tall birch tree, standing on the bank near the point of discovery, I cut off a section of bark and wrote on it these words: "I name this creek 'Bonanza.'" "George Carmack." I fastened it to the discovery stake and left the pan and shovel beside it. We then shouldered our packs and mushed for the Klondike.

THE BIG STAMPERE WAS ON.....

George Washington Carmack

New World Immigrants, Vol. 11, page 268

Carmack, (Cammack), Christopher age 33 in 1830; nativity, England; emigrated from Liverpool, England; arrived in New York, 18 Nov. 1816; Declaration of Intention, 28 Dec. 1830; Proof of Residence, 28 Dec. 1833, Witnesses, Nicholas Callan & Edward Dyer; Naturalization granted 28 Dec. 1833.

Carmack, (Cammack), William age 38 in 1839; nativity, Lincolnshire, England; emigrated from Liverpool, England; arrived at New York, 17 Nov. 1816; Declaration of Intention, 11 Jan. 1839; Proof of Residence, same, Witness, Clement T. Coote & Christopher Carmack; Naturalization granted 11 Jan. 1839.

New Jersey Colonial Documents; Marriage Licenses:

Carmack, David, Monmouth, and Elizabeth Parker 3 July 1773.
Carmack, David, Salem, and Hannah Lecroy 18 Jan. 1775.
Carmalt, Jonathan, Philadelphin, and Rebecca Richardson, Phila., 23 Nov. 1727.

Copied from: L.D.S. Library, N.Y., N.Y., Trinity Church Parish:

Carmack, Stephen, married Anna Cock/h, 10 Apr. 1755.
Carmack, Daniel, married Hannah Eckles, 31 Dec. 1757.

Pennsylvania Marriages:

Carmack, Gilbert, married Elizabeth Reinhold, 27 July 1775.
Carmack, Isabella, married Ephraim Davis, 9 July 1771.
Carmick, Margaret, married John Potts, 27 Feb. 1764.
Carnack, John, married Sarah Ellisson, 22 July 1751 (Old Swede's Church "Gloria Dei" Phila., Pa. Mar. 1750-1810)

Pennsylvania Census:

1790, Carmack, Ann (widow) page 227, Philadelphia Co.
free whites males 16 upward 1, under 16 2, females 4, slaves 1.
1800, Carmack, David; Washington Co.
David; Cphi. Co.
Jacob; Erie Co.
1810, Carmack, David; Crawford Co. Stick it out
Jacob; Erie Co. in Genealogy
Peter; Bedford Co.
Stephen; Philadelphia Co.
1820, Carmac, Mary; Philadelphia Co.
Carmack, Abraham; Bedford Co.
Rosanna; Bedford Co.
William; Crawford Co.
1830, Carmac, Isaac; Philadelphia Co.
Carmack, Abraham; Bedford Co.
William; Crawford Co.

Pennsylvania Census Continued:

1840, Carmack, Abraham; Washington Co.
Catherine; Bedford Co.
1850, Carmac, Daniel; Bedford Co.
Eliza; Bedford Co.
Simpson B.; Fulton Co. (Dublin)
Carmack, William; Fulton Co. (Dublin)
Samuel; Bedford Co. (St. Clair)
James; Bedford Co. (St. Clair)
Joshah W.; Washington Co. (Washington)

New Jersey Census: 1850, Carmac, Thomas, CJMB 214.
Carmack, Johanah, Gloucester Co. 072.

*****

DEATHS:

Carmack, Herbert C., Amarillo, TX, born 14 Feb. 1904 Comanche
Co., TX, died 12 Dec. 1988, burial Llano Cemetery, brother to Kathleen Tinner and Opal Lambert, Odessa, TX.

Carmack, Lloyd Dayton, Jan. 1989, burial 11 Jan. 1989, 3:00 p.m.
Oden United Methodist Church, Oden, AR. MEMBER OF CARMACK COUSINS.

Carmack, W. T., born 1923, died 17 March 1989, Dyersburg, Tn., burial at Halls Cemetery.

Let's remember all of our families above, and thanks to Cousins Kathleen Tinner, Grace Gary and Ruth (Mrs. Lloyd) Carmack for sending above information.

Also at this time let's also remember all of our Carmack's that are sick, my mother continues to be about the same. Grace
Gary missed for the first time in 20 years, March TN DAR State Convention, she was at home recovering from a broken ankle. It was good to get a note at Christmas from Josephine Carmack. As we all know Josephine has been a help to all of us in our search for missing ancestors.

As we can see Earlene Carmack in California and Gwin Copeland in Texas have been very busy as they are responsible for finding the information on Arthur Carmack. Is it possible that Jonathan Carmack #3 is the Jonathan that we all find in Kentucky?
see Vol 11, no. 4, June 1, 1986 of Carmack Cousins, will of Jonathan Carmack, Campbell Co., Ky.

*****

REUNIONS: Let's not forget our Carmack Reunions this summer the Tennessee Carmack Family Reunion will be held the second weekend in July. Directions, time and place with directions will be in the June issue of Carmack Cousins.

16 Arthur CARMACK
 B: by 1720
 M:
 D: 1775 ? NJ

8 David CARMACK
 BORN: by 1755
 NJ
 MARRIED:

DIED: 1813
 Venango Township, Crawford Co PA

9 Hannah LECORY
 BORN: 1747
 Salem Co NJ
 DIED: 1825
 Venango Township, Crawford Co PA

4 William CARMACK
 BORN: 16 Dec 1788
 NJ
 MARRIED: 30 Dec 1811
 Crawford Co PA
 DIED: 28 Sep 1865
 McHenry Co IL

FATHER OF NO.1

2 William CARMACK
 BORN: May 1825

MARRIED:
 DIED:

5 Mary BLYSTONE
 BORN: 8 Apr 1788
 PA
 DIED: 15 Apr 1803
 McHenry Co IL

SPOUSE OF NO.1
 John SLOPE (#36)

1 Charlotte CARMACK
 BORN: 1850/1

MARRIED: 1 May 1870

Yukon Native Languages

AGNES C. JONES
 221 Frawley Rd.
 Chattanooga, TN 37412

- In this Issue:
- Page. 2. Peter Carmick/ Carmack
  3. Arthur Carmack
  4. George Washington Carmack
  5. " " "
  6. New World Imigrants, N.J. Census & Marriage Records; PA Census & Marriage Records.
  7. PA Census, Death's & Reunion.