This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world’s books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that’s often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book’s long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google’s system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

LEWISHAM, KENT, S.E.
INTRODUCTION.

DURING the spring of 1872, while engaged in the Public Record Office in some important researches, I chanced to discover a small quarto MS. volume, bearing the following inscription:—"Index of ye Nobility of Scotland in ye Time of James ye First." The volume was in the handwriting of Sir Joseph Williamson, and, though undated, clearly belonged to the period between 1666 and 1701, when the transcriber held office as Keeper of the State Papers. Along with a written narrative concerning the nobility and their several families were descriptions of their armorial escutcheons, partly in French, and other entries of an extraneous and unimportant character.

From internal evidence, hereafter to be noticed, it became evident that Sir Joseph Williamson had transcribed the "Estimate of the Nobility" from another copy which was likely to be found in the public archives. On a careful search in the British Museum, three copies of the "Estimate" were discovered, each varying in orthography, but otherwise substantially alike. Of these, one is included among the Lansdowne MSS. (No. 877), the two others are embraced in the volumes 1423 and 6101 of the Harleian MSS. A fifth copy is deposited in the Lyon Office, Edinburgh.

These several MSS. may be described. The Lansdowne MS., a thin folio, contains masterly tracings of the arms of Scottish peers, including coloured shields of opulent and influential Scotsmen. On the title-page, it bears, in an ornamental border, the name "Joseph Holand," with the date "1585." According to the Rev. Mr Noble, in his "History of the College of Arms,"* Joseph Holland was a native of Devonshire, and was an accomplished herald, genealogist, and antiquary; he was living in 1617. He executed a parchment roll of the nobility and gentry of Devonshire in 1585, which was suspended in the College of Arms; a folio MS. on the same subject being preserved elsewhere. In his “Collection of Curious Discourses,”* Mr Hearne presents several papers by Joseph Holland. These abound in vague antiquarian speculations, and bear dates between 1598 and 1601. Other compositions by Holland are to be found in the Cottonian Collection.

Of the two MSS. in the Harleian Collection, that numbered 6101 bears on the title-page the name and arms of Robert Jermyn, herald painter, with the date 1585. It includes the emblazoned shields of the kings and principal nobility of Scotland. The MS. No. 1423 has on the first page the signature, “Jo. Withie,”† with the date 1606. At page 129 are these words:—“The Scottish Nobilitie in an. dom. 1577, per Alexander Hay, the xxviii\textsuperscript{th} of December 1577.” Then follows a description of the nobility, in terms almost precisely identical with those of the other MSS. Thus we discover the name of the original compiler, with the date of production. That date, 1577, is verified in the other copies, each of which contains the following entry:—“James, Erle Morton, now Regent of this land of Scotland, a prudent and politique defender of James ye 6\textsuperscript{th}, and a politique preserver of his country.” The Earl of Morton was Regent of Scotland from 1572 to 1581.

The fifth MS. is contained in a small volume belonging to the library of the Lyon Office, Edinburgh. In this volume the accounts of the peers and their families are the same as in the MSS. described; but these are inserted in what had originally been an illuminated book of arms of a somewhat earlier date. This MS. was lately presented to the Lyon † John Withie was a herald painter in the city of London. His son, “John Withy,” followed the same occupation. In the will of this person, registered in Doctors’ Commons, and dated 14th August 1677, he mentions his sons Vere and Fauconberge. He was a member of Bridewell Hospital.

Office by Captain Macdonald of Sandside; to that office it probably belonged at a former period.

Alexander Hay, the author or compiler of the "Estimate," was son of Hay of Park, one of the oldest branches of the noble House of Errol. In March 1564 he was nominated by Secretary Maitland, Clerk of the Privy Council; he received from Queen Mary, on the 1st April following, a warrant on the Treasury for payment of £150 Scots as his salary.* As one of the Queen's accusers he accompanied Maitland and the Earl of Murray to York in 1568.† He became director of the Chancery in 1572; and while holding this office, prepared his "Estimate." It was doubtless drawn up at the instance and for the information of Lord Burleigh, the astute minister of Queen Elizabeth. Respecting reports on the condition of the Scottish nobility subsequently prepared for the English court, Sir Walter Scott writes:‡—"The English princes, since the reign of Henry VIII., had made the important discovery that they could more easily avoid the dangers to be apprehended from Scotland by supporting and encouraging a party within the kingdom itself than by force of arms."

Hay has presented in a succinct form an account of the comparative opulence, and of the connections, inclinations, and dispositions of Scottish nobles. His production is that of a politician rather than of a genealogist. The Earl of Argyle is described as "regal within himself," and as having of his surname and kindred many persons of opulence, whose names are enumerated. The Earls of Angus are set forth as men of great power, and as possessing important kindred. Certain noblemen are described as of religious tendencies. The Earl of Eglinton, and the Lords Macleod, Glenesk, and Livingston are commended for "good stomach," or valour. The Lords Oliphant are set down as "no orators in their words, nor fools in their deeds." The revenues possessed by the several Houses are circumstantially related.

Under favour of the ruling minister of Queen Elizabeth, who exercised no ordinary influence among the Protestant portion of the Scottish nobility, Alexander Hay obtained important preferments. He was appointed Clerk-Register in October 1579; at the same time he was nominated an ordinary Lord of Session,* when he assumed the judicial title of Lord Easter-Kennet. Soon afterwards he was nominated a Commissioner anent the Jurisdiction of the Kirk.† In 1581 he was named a Commissioner for the Visitation of Hospitals, and also an arbiter in the feud subsisting between the families of Gordon and Forbes. In November of the same year, after the Raid of Ruthven, he conveyed to the Earl of Lennox the royal command that he should depart from the kingdom.‡ When James left Scotland for Norway, in October 1589, to bring home his queen, Hay was nominated Secretary for the Scottish language during the royal absence.§ In 1592 he was for his services to the kingdom voted the thanks of Parliament.|| He died on the 19th September 1594, “shortlie after the baptism of the Prince (Henry), by excessive paines and travellis tane be him at ye time, immediately before and at the tyme of the baptisme.”¶ His remains were consigned to the churchyard of Holyrood Abbey.

It is worthy of remark that Sir Alexander Hay of Newton and Whitburgh, younger son of Lord Easter-Kennet, and successively a Clerk of Session, a Lord Ordinary and Clerk-Register, granted to the Magistrates and Town Council of Aberdeen certain annuities for repairing the Bridge of Don. His charter granting these annuities is dated 1st February 1605, and bears that the bridge was the noble work of the renowned and illustrious King Robert Bruce. The annual grant, amounting only to £2, 5s. 8½d. of sterling money, has latterly been productive of a fund of £12,000.

Along with Hay's “Estimate” are presented two others, prepared at subsequent dates, and which, though formerly printed, have not been made generally accessible. Taken together, these documents cast no inconsiderable light on the condition of Scottish affairs at an important epoch.

THE

The Lord Drummond, of the same surname, is descended from Sr John Drummond of Stobhall, knight, whose daughter Robert the third of the Stewardes maryed. Their chief house, called Drymmen, standeth in Straitherne, within the Sherif-dome of Saint Johnston, called Perth, 18 myles northward from Sterlinge. Thir be of that surname the Lord of Innerpefrye, Erne, Drummond, and others not of greate power. A surname subtile and of cruell stomake, as appeered by the buryinge of lxx. Murreyes, their neighbours, in one church. The women of that house haue ben fayre commonly lemmans to kinges of that lande, as to James the Fourth * and to James the Fifte his sonne. They haue matched with the houses of Huntley; the last George borne of a daughter of that house with Angush and Flemynge very neere at this day in alliaunce.

* Our author's assertions with respect to the dishonour of this illustrious house are not historically borne out. For an account of the attachment of James IV. to Margaret Drummond, see "Monuments and Monumental Inscriptions in Scotland," ii. 156.
THE LORD OLIPHANT.

The Lord Oliphant, of the same surname, descended of the Lords of Aberdawgie. His house, called Dupline, lyeth in Straherne, vpon the water of Erne, where Edward Balliol, assisted by Edward the Third, King of England, gave battell with 8000 men only, overthrew the most part of the nobles of Scotland, and made himself kinge, called to this day the battell of Dupline. This baron is not of greate revenue, but that he hath be good landes and profitable; few gentlemen of his surname, and so of small power; yet a house very loyall to the state of Scotland, accompted no orators in their words, nor yet fooles in their deedes. They do not surmounte in their alliaunces, but content with their worshipfull neighbours. Their house lyeth two myles on this syde Saint Johnston.

LORD ROS OF HAKKET.

The Lord Ros of Hakket and Mailuile, Ros by his surname, descend from Hugh Ros, whose sonne Walter was Erle of Ros. His chief house, called Halkheade, lyeth fyve myles from Glasco westward, within haulf a myle of Paisley, and lyke distant from Crukiston, chief house of the Erle of Leuinox, in the Sherifdome of Renfrew. He hath an other house beside Dalkeith called Mailuiles.* They haue ben men of goode stomackes, and hardy. Their power and lyvinge not greate. Assistances and alliances ever to the house of Leuinox. Of that housse and surname came in England, and was Lord Ros in Yorkshire, whose inheritance is come to the Erles of Rutland. This house in Scotland is now descended to a daughter.

THE LORD RUTHVEN.

The Lord Ruthven, of the same surname, Sherif of Perth by inheritance, called Saint Johnston, a shire very greate, wherein be the Stewartries of Straigherne † and Menteith. His chief house called Ruthen, within two myles of St Johnston aforesaid. A baron of goode livinge. His grandfather maryed one of the heires of the Lord Dyrleton, and so augmented his revenue. The man's father maryed the daughter of Archibald Erle of Angush, haulf sister to my Lady Margareet Leuinox. This man now is Lord Threaseror of Scotland. The house of Ruthven haue ben always very loyall to their estate, wyse, and men hardy. Not many of their surname, but of goode power by their frendes and alliances.

THE LORD MAXWELL.

The Lord Maxwell, of the same surname. Their forefathers came into Scotland with Edgar and Margaret his sister, that was maryed to King Malcolme Canmore. They were advaunced to sondry landes in Nithisdale vpon the west marches of Scotlant. They have sondry gentlemen of their surname. They ar altogether Wardens of those west marches. Their houses be Carlaverok overthrown vpon invasion by the Erle of Sussex, Lieutenant for the Quene of England. These have the keepinge of the Castell of Lochmaben. The tower of Langhome be their inheritance. A house in Dunfrise, and the house of Trave, situate with the waters of Doe above Carcobright* within Galloway. Their power and livinge is greate. Allyed with the houses of Angus, Drulanhrig, Garleis, Loychinvar, and Johnston.

THE LORD SOMERVILE.

The Lord Somervile, of the same surname. Their residence with their surname is in Clydisdale, within the Sherifdome of Lanerik, and head towne of that shire, wherof th'erles of Arrane be sheriffes. There is descended of that house the heires of S't John Somerville of Canethim,† a faire house in the same shire, the Lord of Plane‡ in Sterlingshire, and other gentlemen. Men hardie. They be of alliance with th' Erles of Angus, and dependers vpon that surname, and not addicted to the Hamiltons their neighboures, but rather enemyes in hart. A noble man of pretie lyvinge; his power not greate.

* Kirkcudbright.  † Cambusnethan.  ‡ Plean.
THE LORD SEATON.

The Lord Seaton, of the same surname, descended from Sir Alexander Seaton that kept the town of Berwike in the days of Edward the Third, King of England. Their surname came home with King Malcolm Canmor forth of England, and for their good and loyalty ever to the estate were made Barones. Their chief house, called Seaton, standeth in Lowtheameshire, 7 miles east from Edinborough. A man of no great living, but very good landes that he hath. They have been altogether of the Frenche faction, and advanced some time by pension dearly bought. There is of that house and surname, the Knight of Alebodye* by syde Sterling. They have matched with Bothwell and Borthwik. The last married a French woman. He hath ben hurt by assistinge the late Queene of Scottes.

THE LORD HUME.

The Lord Hume, of the same surname, descended from the Lordes of Stanford in England, was advanced for service to sondrey landes in the Mers that was th’erle of Marches. They have been of longe tyme Wardens of the east marches of Scotland, and some tyme of all three. They have been Lord Chamberleyne of Scotland, and of great power; and sondrey gentlemen of good power and living of their surname, of whom the Lordes of Wedderburn, Red Brayes, Coldenknowes, Falscastell, Broxmouth, and others. Their chief houses be Hume Castell, Falscastell, now Dowglas, and Thornton, both in Lowtheame, and burnt by Englishmen. The Lordes have not of late ben accompted wise, yet hardy, and by improvidence of late lost sondry claymes in the Mers, as Bronfield, Dixsones, Trotters, and others. They have been allied with the houses of Bothwell, Arrane, Crawford, Borthwik, and others greate men, now almost ruyned for the part of their late Queene.

THE LORD BORTHWIK.

The Lord Borthwik, of the same surname, came to Quene Margaret, wyf to Kinge Malcolme Canmore, forth of Hungary. Their chief house called the Castell of Borthuik, standing upon T* water in Lowtheame, eight myles south from Ed.* An house ever true and loyall to the estate, jüst in all promyses, and hater of theves, much gyven to quyetenesse, religious in their doinges, and hardy when tyme requyret. They haue ben allied with th' Erles of Bothuile, Montgomery, with Seaton, and others. Barons of an indifferent goode lyvinge. Sondrey gentlemen of that surname, of whome was S* John Borthwik, knight,† that earnest and goode Protestant, and a servitor to the English estate.

THE LORD BOYDE.

The Lord Boyde of the same surname, his predecessor beinge Lord, was in the dayes of James the Third of the Stewarts atteinted more vpon malice of courte then for any lawful deseart, as appeared by the soubdayne death of the Lord Grey, then Chief Justice vpon appellation of the said Lord at gyvinge the sentence. This man's father, called Robert Boyde, was created Lord Boyde by James Erle of Arrane, beinge governour, and gott the chief house called the Castell of Kylmarnok, and all the landes apperteyninge thereto, lyeinge besyides Kilmawse in Cuninghame, and of old freendship with th' Erles of Glencarne. This man is wise, honest, and of very goode religiou, and matched his sonne with the Sherif of Are, and so of goode force. A surname of right hardie men.

THE LORD INNERMETH.

The Lord Innermeth, called Stewart, descended of the Stewartes of Lorne and Atholl. Their chief house, called

* Borthwick Castle is situated on the river Tyne.
† Sir John Borthwick early embraced the Reformed doctrines, and was, in 1540, cited before the ecclesiastical court at St Andrews on an indictment embracing thirteen charges of heresy. He fled for protection to the Court of Henry VIII. By the decree of Cardinal Beaton, he was burnt in effigy at St Andrews.
Innemeth, lyeth in Straitherne, 6 myles south from Sant Johnston; men of no greate power, of indifferent lyvinge, no greate vndertakers, but quyett in their contry. They ar allyed of late with a daughter of the Capitaine of Faulklande, called Beaton.

THE LORD TERRIKLES.*

The Lord Terikles, whose surname was called Heryes; the house and landes descended to daughters lately; John Maxwell, second sonne to Robert Lord Maxwell deceased, and vnCLE to this Lord Maxwell, maryenge the eldest daughter of Herryes, and compoundinge with the rest, was created baron, and advaunce of the late dowager and Arrane, beinge governour, and now called Lord Herryes. His chief house lyeth in Nithisdale, besides Drumfries, ioyninge with the boundes of the Lord Maxwell, his nephew. By that lyvinge and other his provisions, he is of a goode revenue as his chief, so they two now be of greate force.

THE LORD SINCLERE.

The Lord Sinclere, descended of the Erles of Orkenye and Cathnes, and of the same surname. His chief house, called Raunynnes,† lyeth vpon the sea syde, nigh the town of Dysart in Fyff. He hath the most part of his landes and surname in Orkenye; of indifferent lyvinge, and no greate force in these partes of Scotland. They matched of late with the Lord Salton, with the Lord Glencarnok, a greate man of the Cunynghames, and with sondrey other barons; men civile and honest, no shirklers in their common wealth. Their anceters came forthe of Fraunce, and not of Hungary.

THE LORD SEMPILL.

The Lord Sempill, of the same surname, is Sherif by inheritance of the Sherifdome called the Barony of Renfrew, lyenge on the south side of the water of Clyde, from Glasco, to beyonde Southennnen, beinge 28 miles in length, a very pro-

His chief houses lyenge in the same Sherisidome be Castell Semple, a very fayre house, but lately defaced; the house of Lauen, and the Castell of Southenlen, with a house new buylded in Paisleye. They be a proper surname. This man was adherent to the Lordes at the apprehension of the late Quene Mary, and of that syde. They be allied with th'erles of Eglington, and haue bene somtyme in controversy with the Cunyghames, and overmatched with that surname; men sufficientardy, their lyvinge not greate, and of late hurte.

THE LORD VCHILTREE.

The Lord Vchiltree, called Stewart, descended from the house of Leuinox. This man's father was Lord Auendale, which was his ancyent house, and very noble, descended from Andrew Lord Auendale, Chauncellour of Scotland. He maryed th'erle of Arrane's sister, and because Auendale ioyyneth with Hamilton, he exchaunged with Sr James Hamilton, th'erle's base sonne, for the landes of Vchiltree. There haue ben worthie men of that house, as the late Lord Methwen; James Stewart, Capitayne of Doune; and Robert Stewart, slayne with the Prince of Conde in Fraunce, brother to this Lorde, who is a man of most zelous religion.

THE LORD CREITHON.

The Lord Creithon or Sancher,* called Creighton, their surname before beares, came forth of Hungary with Edgar and his Quene in Scotland in tyme of Kinge Malcolm Cammore, and afterward made barones, and now be Sherifes of Nythisdale by inheritance. Their chief house, called Sancher Castell, standeth in the head of that shire. Ther be many greate gentlemen of that surname and of goode power, as the knights of Fyndrawght in the north, Straighurdie, Nynian Creighton of Culybuk, the Lard of Nawghten; sometymes capitaynes of Edingburg Castell. They matched with Leuinox and sondrey other nobles. There is an olde grudge between the Douglasses and that surname for slaughter of th' Erle of Douglas, in the tyme of James the Second.

THE LORD LINDSAYE.

The Lord Lindsaye, and of the Byres in Lowtheame, is descended from the house of Crawford; he is now Sherif of Fyff, which lately was at the house of Kathoes; his chief house, called Struder, standeth within two myles of Cowpare in Fyff, 8 miles on this syde S't Andros. A man of indifferent lyvinge, no greate power of himself, nor yet many of his surname from that house. This man is hardy, and hath ben loyall to the state and very constant.

THE LORD METHVEN.

The Lord Methwen, the first therof Henry Stewart, brother to late Androwe Lord Auendale, and husband to the late Quene Margaret of Scotland, who purchased the landes of that baronage and gave them to him and his heirs, and was created Baron and Lord Methwen by James the Fift her sonne, and made Maister of the Ordinance and Sherif of Linlithchu by inheritance. His house lyeth in the Sherifdome of Perth, abone Sant Johnston. The last lord gotten upon the Countess of Sutherlande, daughter of the Erle of Athell. After the slaughter of the Erle of Leuinox, late Regent, whom he dearlie loved, could not enjoy in Scotland, past to France, and there dyed, and hath a yonge sonne to succeide. They be of noble blood, very religious and valiaunt.

THE LORD FORBOYS.

The Lord Forboys, of the same surname. At their begin-inge wer called Boys, and for their goode service gotte sondrey landes in the Mearnes, by the gifte of King Robert Brus.
Afterward, for killinge of a bear, they wer called Forbes, and gotte these armes, of whome this lord is descended, and many other gentlemen of that name. Their chief residence and their beinge in the northe of Scotland within the Sherifdome of Abirdene. A man of goode power and lyvinge, and hath ben enemyes to th'erles of Huntley, whome they haue manfully withstoode consyderinge his greatnes.

The Lord Salton and Rothamaye is called to name Abirnethie; they descended from Sr David Abirnethy, sister sonne to Kinge Robert Brus, and was called the flower of chialry for his greate actes don agaynst the Turkes. This baron hath ben ever loyall, without spotte since their first creation, and very valiaunt. His house called Salton, beside Haddington, standeth in Lowheame, but his chief house and contynuall residence, called Rothamaye, is in the north, a pallace very fayre. He is of goode power and lyvinge, and albeit Huntley his neighbour hath much repyned that house, yet they haue stowtly withstoode theim by their greate freendship and wealth, and haue lyved alwayes in greate love and quyet with the Erles of Murrey and other barons in the northe. This man is descended of the daughter of the Lord Dintlare; honest in religion.

THE LORD GRAVE.

The Lord Graye, of the same surname. Andrew Greye, his forefather, of whome he is descended, came with James the First, kinge of that name of the Stewartes at his redemption forth of England, he gott sondrey goode landes in Gowrie and Angush, and so by their goode service became barons. They be Sherifes of Angush or Forfare, beinge the hedde towne of the shire, by inheritance. Their cheif house, called Fowles, standeth in the Kers of Gowrie, in the same shire, 4 myles westward from Dundee; and from the said towne eastward 2 myles standeth upon the side of Taye Broughtie Craige, his inheritance, lately in Englishe possession. They haue sondrey gentlemen of their surname, and of goode power, men hardy and of goode religion; they haue matched with the houses of Crawforde, Hume, Londie, and sondrey other nobles.
THE LORD ELPHINGSTON.

The Lord Elphingston, of the same surname, was created Baron by James the Fourth, slayne at Flowdon, and maryd an English gentlewoman called Barley, that came in Scotland with Queene Margaret, eldest daughter to Henry the Seventh, forth of England, and gott on her the last Lord Elphingston. His house, called Elphingston, lyeth on the east part of Sterlinge, towards Forthe river. There be of that surname the Lord of Henderston, in the same shire; the Lord lyeth in Sterlingshire, of no greate power and lyvinge, allyed since and depending vpon the Lord Ersking, now Erle of Marre.

THE LORD GLAMMES.

The Lord Glammes, descended from John Lyon, first made secretary to th' Erle of Crawford, and after familiar to Robert the Second, the first Kinge of the Stewartes, and was made Chauncelor; maryed his daughter, called Elizabeth, and gott the Glammes and many riche landes in Angush, and so created Baron; and gave theim the armes of Scotland with the treasur, saveinge they should beare three lyons in a blacke feld, which is not heere. That first Lord was slayne by the Erle of Crawford, envyenge his felicity; and longe banished for that act. Their chief house, Glammes, lyeth in Angush; of greatest revenue of any baron of that land. This last Lord, borne of the daughter of th' Erle of Angush, and so that way allyed. Fewe gentlemen of their surname, and best enter-tesynd for their revenue.

THE LORD CAITHCART.

The Lord Caithcart, of the same surname. His chief house, called Caithcart, standeth two myles south from Glasco, in Renfrewe sherefdome. He matched with the house of Semple, and is that Lorde's sister sonne. He is decayed bothe in lyvinge and surname, and therefore of the lesse accompt.
THE LORD LOVET.

The Lord Lovet, called Fresell,* whose surname came from Hungary. His landes and resyndence lyeth toward Logh-whenor, far north; created Baron in the dayes of James the Second of the Stewartes. The last Lord, with all his kynne and freendes, savinge one boy to succeede, was slayyne in the 27 yere of Henry the Eight by the Clanrannald, a mischeuous surname, in the Isles, valiantly foughten. This Baron is of goode lyvinge and power in the north, allied and a dependaunt vpon the Erle of Huntley. A surname esteemed honest and very hardy.

THE LORD OGILWY.

The Lord Ogilwy, of the same surname, is descended from Alexander Ogilwy, then Sherif of Angush, slane by the power of Donald of the Isles in a sore conflict called the battell of Harlawe, in the reign of James the First; afterward for their goode service created Barons, whose chief house and residence is on the syde of Augush towards the Meirnes, men of goode lyvinge. And from that house is descended Sr Walter Ogilwy, knight, Sherif of Banf, in the north; the Knight of Fynnator, both men of great lyvinges in the north; and sondrey other gentlemen. They be men of fayre com-plexion, wise, and ciuill, and of goode power, allied with the Erles of Craweford and sondrey other barons about them.

THE LORD CARLEIL.

The Lord Carleil, of that surname, an ancycnt Baron, but now both decayed in lyvinge and power, and in surname also. Their house, called Therthrowell,† of a stronge and thicke wall buylded, standeth in the foote of Nythisdale towards Loighes water on the west syde, and Esk , at that part called Sullawaye‡ on the southe. appendanties with their small powers upon the Lord Maxwell and such as be wardens for the tyme.

THE LORD OF THE ISLES.

The Lord of the Isles of Skye and Lewes, called Makloyd, the furthest isles lyenge towarde the north, betwixt Loigghuhabir* and Stranaurerne,† speakinge the Irisme tongue, of goode power and lyvinge in this contrey, but of small power to bringe in the southe part of Scotland to armye royall, and so not much to be esteemed. They be very obedient to the estate.

The Lord of the Isles, of the same surname, Makconele or Makcane, for their greatnes, vnstable loyaltie, and for their often incursions on the mayne lande of Scotlande, oftentimes difficill agayne to bringe to obedience, was inhibit by Kinge Robert Brus in his last will to never to make a Lord of the Isles. And therefore sondrey tymes have ben atteyned, and lastly by James the Fourth, who put the principall of theim to deathe on the Borrowe Mure of Edinburgh. Of late was one created, ioynd with Matthewe Erle of Leuinox, in the service of King Henry the Eight, and dyed in Ireland. There is none now but the children of James Makconele and Charlie Bowe, a concourser in Ireland. Their chief residences in Kintire and Ratrayes.

LIST AND CHARACTERS OF THE NOBILITY OF SCOTLAND DURING THE REIGN OF KING JAMES THE SIXTH, 1583-1602.*

I.—An Opinion of the Present State, Faction, Religion, and Power of the Nobility of Scotland. MDLXXXIII.†

Prefatory Note by Sir Walter Scott.

"The English princes, since the reign of Henry VIII., had made the important discovery that they could more easily avoid the dangers to be apprehended from Scotland by supporting and encouraging a party within the kingdom itself than by force of arms. The progress of the Reformation in Scotland tended greatly to favour this course of policy; since the Protestant nobles were easily induced to look to England for support, even at some risk of national independence, when they beheld the power of France exerted on the part of the Catholics. The following list, evidently made up by one of the English envoys or agents, is curious, as showing the state of these two contending parties, and the respective influence of the nobility engaged in either faction about the year 1583."

A Briefe Opinion of the State, Faction, Religion, and Power of the severall Noblemenn in Scotland, as they dwell, not placinge them accordinge to their Greatness, Degree, or Antiquitie, vnder the Raigne of Kinge James VI. Anno Domini, 1583.

Duke of Lennox.

Esme Stewart, sonne to Esme Stewart, the late Duke, is an infant, and remaineth yet in Fraunce. The lyuinge he hathe in Scotland, besydes that his father gott by the forfeitures of the Hamiltons and Erle of Morton, is very small, the whole property of the olde Erledome of Lennox beinge morgaged, dismembred, and brought in manner to nothinge, and the reste like to breede him some troble with the Hamiltons and the Douglasses, if euer the tyme affourde them the oportunitie to recouer their owne. He is Shereife of Dumbretoun, and hath the chief commandement of that castell, beinge a place of principall strengthe amongst all the fortis of Scotlande.

ERLES.

ORKENAY.

The Lord Robert Stewarte, base sonne of King James Vth, hathe possessed Orkenay and Zetlande since this Kinge was crowned, beinge a chief thinge of the Kinge’s propertie, and created into an Erldome in Novemuer 1581. A man disso- lute in lyef, lyttle sure to any faction, of small zeale in religion. His reuenu is greate, and power suche as those countries can make. His wyef is daughter to the olde Erle of Cassills, and aunte to him that now lyuethe.

KATHNES.

George Sinclair, half-brother to this Erle Bothuille, by the mother’s syde, is a youte of xvij years of age, vnder the tutorie of therle of Gowrie, who hath his wardedshipp (a cause of the late vnkindenes and harte-burninge betwene him and Bothuille). Of his religion and inclination their is yet lyttle tryall. His power extendes ouer the bondes of Cathnes, although therle Marshall and the Lorde Oliphonte be por- cioners with him of that countyre.

SUTHERLANDE.

Alexander Gordon, a younge man within xxx yeres of age, a branch lately descended of the house of Hunteley, and hath maried this Erle of Huntley’s father’s sister, that was diuorced from the late Erle Bothuille. He is in lyuinge poore; in reli- gion well affected, but of no greate partie nor enterprise. His mother was sister to Matthew, Erle of Lennox.

MURRAY.

gotten on this Erle of Argile's sister, styled of that erledom in the right of his wyef, being the eldest daughter of James, laste Erle of Murray and Regent. Is a yonge man of xvj years of age; of a very tall stature, but lyttle profe.

HUNTLEY.

George Gordon, his mother was daughter to the Duke Hamilton; himselfe aboue xxj yeres of age. In religion doubted, and in affection Frenche. He is contracted to marry with the Duke of Lennox daughter, by whose meanes he obteyned the Kinge's favoour. His power and frendeshipp in the north is greate; his estate as yet not fully restored since the forfaiture of his father; and therefore slowe to engage himself in any faction or quarrell of state, but at the Kinge's pleasure, to whose humor and favoour he dothe wholly bende and apply himself.

BUCHAN.

James Douglas, an infante of three or four yeres old, the sonne of Robert Douglas, seconde brother to this Lairde of Locheleuin, who married the heretrix. An Erledome that some now in courte are suspected to have aimed at, to the prejudice of this younge Erle.

ERROLL.

Andrew Hay, Constable of Scotland, a man of lv yeres olde;
of great lyuinge and power; but the man himself of lyttle valure and judgement.

MARSHALL.

George Keith, marshall; a yonge noble man of good commandation; his lyuinge ancient, and reuewnew greatest of any Erle in Scotlands. His mother was sister to this Erle of Erroll, and himself married to the Lord Humes daughter, sister to him that now is. He was lefte very welthy; and is esteeemed honest, religious, and fauoringe the best parte.
CRAUFOURDE.
Dauide Lindsey, a younge man of an auncient house, of Erle of that surname. His mother was daughter to the Cardinall himself; maryed to therle of Athol's sister. His liuing and estate muche ruined. Himself in affection Frenche; in religion vnsettled; but his power tyed shorte by the feude he hath with the Master of Glamis and his frendes, for the slaughter of the last Lord Glamis, committed at Sterlinge.

ATHOL.
John Stewarte; his mother the Lord Fleming[e]s daughter; himself maryed to therle of Gowrie's daughter; a man of lyttle valuer or accompte; in religion suspected; and that power he hathe is of Hilandmen, but not greate.

ROTHES.
Androwe Leslye, a man of 1 yeres and vpwardes; noted to be wyse, but no open medler or party taker in any faction. He is of good welthe, power, and frendes. Himself maryed the Erle of Gowrie's sister, and his sonne the Lord Linsaye's daughter.

MONTROIS.
John Grahame, a man aboue xxx yeres of age; borne of the same mother with therle of Atholl. His wyef the Lord Drumunde's daughter. His power not greate; in affection Frenche, and in religion doubted. He seemes to depende on therle of Argile, the rather to fortyfie himself againste therle of Angus and his frendes, whose wyef he is charged to haue dishonered. The man is, for courage and spirite, a principall man amonge the nobilitie of Scotlande.

MENTEITH.
William [John] Grahame, an infant; his mother was daughte[r] to [Sir James] Douglas of Drumlangrige. His power is small, and that of Hylandmen dependinge one therle of Ergile, whose mother was therle of Menteith's daughter.
DURING THE REIGN OF JAMES VI.

Here the Duke of Lennox is to be placed accordinge to his dwellinge.

MARCH.

Robert Stewarte, vnkle to the late Duke, brooking in effecte but the title of therldome, is a man past lx, simple, and of lyttle action or accompte. His repudiate wyef is now maryed to Stewarte, the pretended Erle of Arrane. He is Bushop of Cathnes, and Prior of St Andrews.

GLEN CARNE.

James Cunningham, is a man aboue xxx yeres of age, not well thought of since the trobles in Scotlant, aboute the remouing of the late Duke, wherein he was suspected not to haue delte sincerely. He is of reasonable good lyvinge, if yt were freed of the morgages wher [with] some of his auncestors haue entangled a good parte thereof. His power is reasonable great, by his surname and frendes, and in religion thought to be well affected.

EGLINTON.

Hew Mongomery, a man about 1 yeres of age, inclyned to quietnes, and of no greate action or capacitie. He is thought to fauor the [blank in MS.], and deemed in affection to be Frenche, and in religion not throughly assured. His sonne hath maryed the Lorde Bwyde's [Boyd's] daughter.

ARRANE.

James Stewarte, seconde sonne to the Lord Vchiltree; a man from nothinge sodenly rysesd to the state he is in by the fauor of the late Duke, for the good seruice he did in accusinge and persecutinge the Erle of Moreton to the deathe; a man of more wytte than courage, but of no sayth, conscience, or honestie; insolent where he preuayleth, and of a restlesse and troblesome spiryte; suspected of all men, and never fauored or trustyd of any but his like; of no power, frendes, or welth, but that he hathe by his vsurped Erledom of Arrane

CASSILLS.

John Kenned, an infant; his mother was sister to the Lord Glannis. He possesseth a greate countruye, and hath the many frendes in Carrich and Gallowaye.

GOWRIE.

William Ruthney, L. Ruthney [Ruthuen], Treasurer of Scotlande, lately created Erle of Gowrie; a man whose courage and power hath the bene well tryed, bothe in former actions against the Quene's partie, etc., and of late the Earl of Ruthney against Lennox. He is greatly hated by the Quene, as well for his father's action in the slaughter of Daviud, as for his owne daughter suire against the her and her frendes. He is in religion well affected, inclyned to the amitie of Englaunde, but since his enterteyninge the frendshipp and service of Sir Robert Meluin, his vnder-treasurer, he is fallen into some jelousie with the better sort.

MORETON.

ESTIMATE OF THE SCOTTISH NOBILITY

E. of Marr, E. of Gray,
Mr. of Gray,

Indorsed—A Note showinge howe certeine of the Nobylitie of Scotland are affected.

VIII.—The Present State of Scotland, 1586, with their Particular Dispositions.*

I. THE KING’S DISPOSITION TOWARDS RELIGION.—Well and soundly affected, as may be presumed by these reasons:—1. His exercise in hearing the Word of God almost daily—viz., on Soondayes, fornoon and afternoon; on Wensdayes and Frydayes, in the forenoon, besydes a chapter read, with soom exposition, after every meal, which, bycause it is doon so often and ordinarily, it is to bee supposed that hee doeth it syncearly and to good effect. Hearto, that he is never absent from his ordinary sermons, but hee giveth notice before to his preacher, which argueth soom regard hee hath of his absence, which, notwithstanding, falleth owt very seldom. 2. His promptness in the Scriptures, wherin he is thought to bee as pregnant and ready, by the testimonie of the Ministers them selves, as any man within his realm, and his judgment in using and applyeng them, beeing able to confirm any speciall point of doctrine by sufficient reason out of the Word, whearby appeareth that hee hath the knowledg and perswasion of the truth. 3. His care to give good example to other by resorting sometyme on the Soondayes to the ordinary sermons in Edinborough Church, and his patience in hearing him self publique reproved and admonished by the preachers thear, though they speak home, and with much libertie. Heartoe his remitting his displeasure towards certeine preachers, viz., Mr Watson and Gysborne, which, though it wear obtained with soom difficultie, yet at length hee remitted all freely, without any satisfaction, which fiew princes would have doon in lyke case. Soom hard construction is made of his gesture and behaviour at the publique sermons, whear hee useth sometyme to talk with soom that stand by him, specially with Mr Peter Young, which, though it wear better forborn and reserved for privat, yet for that it is of soomthing spoken by the preacher, and not captiously (so far as I can learn), may bee well interpreted. 4.

* The words in italics are underlined in the original.
DURING THE REIGN OF JAMES VI.

His often and earnest protestations, as at the Generall Assembly of the ministers, at the arraignment of L. Maxwell, Herrise, etc., whear hee made a large and earnest profession of his love towards the truth, with a detestation of Poperie in the Tolbuth publiquely, besydes privaty to Mr Randolph, to soom of his company, at thair departing, to that effect that he would defend the Ghospell with the loss of his crowne, lyfe, and all. 5. His often and open trites and deriding of Popery in his common talk. 6. His denyeng masse to the French Ambas- sadour. 7. His life and conversation, which, though it bee touchted soonwhat with the common faults and misbehaviour of the countrey, viz., with swearing soomtime, etc. (whearоф a speciall cause is want of sound company abowe him), yet hee keepeth it in good order, and (as a young Prince) is of a stayed behaviour, void of licentiousness and notorious faults, shewing good signes of modestie, as blushing soomtime when hee speaketh in presence, and as he sheweth outwardly; and the report is of those which are nearest about him, very chaste, and yet desirous of marriage. Towards the discipline of the Church hee seemeth not soundly affected, bycause (as hee hath been persuaded by soom, and sheweth by plain signes, that he hath that impression), it holds within compasse, and takes away from the Prince's authoritie, which hee thincketh littell enough in Scotland as it is.

2. ENGLAND.—Sound and true, as it seemeth, for these reasons:—

1. The apparaunt respects he sheweth towards England for the matter of succession, whearin hee seemeth to have made this resolution, that it is a better and readier cours for him to attain to it by favoure out of England, and to strengthen him self that way, then by confederacie with any other forrein, as France, &c. Reasons of this presumption:—The report of divers near about him, which say that hee is fully so resolved, and professeth it to them, to keep in with England for that respect, howsoever things fall out. The late matter of the League, whearin, notwithstanding divers dissuasions of the adverse part, and soon things on our part, that otherwise might have gon against stomak, viz., the articles framed muche more for our benefit then for theirs; the not subscribing to the instrument for the not prejudicing his succession, which hee took to bee a promise and condition; the defalking of one thousand pound from the pension money, etc., he digested all, to conclude amitie. 2. For that Fraunce faileth him for pension, etc., and hee seeth the confused state thear to incline towards the better part, viz., Navarre, of whome hee vseth to speak much honour, and objected against the late ambassadour the dishonourable and perfidious dealing of the K. of Fr. towards him and the rest in breaking the pacification, etc., which hee speaketh muche against; besydes, hee knoweth his mother's friends thear, viz., the Guisian part, to cary more respects to his mother then to him. And though hee seemeth not to have lost all affection to his mother, notwithstanding those foul parts, yet (as they abowt him will speak) hee had rather have hir as shee is, then him selfe to give hir place. Hearto his colld entertainment and slight conference with the French ambassadour, both publique and privat. 3. For that hee seeth that this amitie with England, specially for the article of not receiving fugitives, etc., and other assistance, aweth the factions at home of his nobilitie, which otherwise hee must needs fear and dowbt more.

3. Parts at Home.—Generally hee seemeth desirous of peace, as appeareth by his disposition and exercises,—viz., 1. His great delight in hunting; 2. his private delight in enditing poesies, etc. In one or both of these commonly hee spendeth the day, when hee hath no publique thing to doe. 3. His desire to withdraw him self from places of most accesse and company to place of more solitude and repast, with very small retinue, which may endaunger his person, if any soodain road should bee made from the Highlands, which having the K. have all. 4. His readines to compose matters that might trouble his peace, though with soom disadvauntage; yet, as should seem, in the same mynd with his predecessours, viz., not content with the hauk the nobilitie hath over him. For that cause, it may be thought hee intertained James Steward, and advançaunce him to bee Earle Arran, to encounter him with soom other of the nobilitie that wear lykelyest to keep the Government in statu quo, and to abate their authoritie, by soom other of newe creation.

Towards the E. E. Anguse and Marre hee may seem scarce soundly affected, notwithstanding the reconciliation. Prasumptions.—1. For that the reconciliation was violent, and therefor to bee suspected. 2. For that hee counteth it yet a great dishonour to him that they wear so restoared home, as appeareth by that hee speaketh still of Mr Wotton, for his close departing, viz., that hee might have used the matter better, and have ben made a mean for the restoaring them with the saving of his honour, reckoning it a dishonour to him still that they wear so restoared, and their dutifull dealing afterwards no sufficient recompense to salve that dishonour, but (as it is now thought) rather a fear and dissolutenes in them. 3. For that in owtward apperance there seemeth to bee but a drines betwixt the K. and those Lords. 4. For that hee suffereth a fewd to grow betwixt the EE. Marre and Bothwell, and doth not stopp it bytimes, as content to have him in dislyke with other of the nobilitie.

Towards Arran, James Steward.—It is commonly suppos'd that hee beareth him soon secract favour. Prasumptions of it.—1. Bycause hee suffred him to continue within his realm so long time after his proscription, and gave him twoe monthes more after the time expired, and his repulse owt of Ireland. 2. For that hee hath his brother, Sir W. Steward, very near abowt him, who giveth owt that his brother James shall bee in place again ear long, as high as before, and speaketh it confidently. 3. Bycause hee suffreth him and his wyfe to enjoy suche jewells as they had conveyed from him, and urgeth it not greatly. 4. For that the day after the ambassadour's departing from the L. Bothwel's, whear hee left the King, it is sayed for a certaintie that Arran cam thither and conferred with the King. 5. On near abowt the K. and whome hee useth familiarly (though otherwise of noe great account for publique matter), after a good large cup taken in, told me in myne ear, sitting by him, that I should hear of an other alteration shortly of the noble men abowt the K. These may make som doubt and suspension of the K. reclining towards that state whearin thinges wear before. But it is to bee thought verily that his respects towards England will keep him in the same tenour hee is now, in case hee percyve a dislyke hear still of Arran's restoaring, etc., a favour towards the other LL.

II. The Nobilitie's Disposition.

1. English Part.—The Earles Anguse and Marr, Earle of Glencarn, LL. Hamiltons, Mr. Glames, in pretence, Mr. Grey. The EE. Anguse and Marr, besyde somt doubt of the Kinges favour towards them, seem to bee of no great authoritie, save with their own clients and followers; for that they ar supposed to have delt very slightly and negligently in their late action, and not to have perfourmed their promise, nor answered the expectation conceived of them for the sound reforming of religion, and thinges abowt the King, but omitting the opportunitie of strengthening the better part, and weakning the woorse, retired them selves to their particulars, as content with their restitution to their own privat; and this is the common talk among the better and more religious sort, tending altogether to the dislyking of them and their dooings, insomuch that (as it is sayed) if they wear again to coom in, scarce a man would put foorth his hand to byd them wellcoom. The adverse part seem, for the same cause, not only to hate them, but to contemn them, imputing this their remisse or gentle dealing to lack of courage and wis doom. Divers of the noblemen that took part with them in their late action are now in driness, or quarrell with them, as Earle Bothwell with the E. Marre, abowt a part taking with his brother-in-law, for which hee threatneth to have his lyfe, and useth to say now that Arran and his part was far better than they. Maxwell, that sought only revenge upon Arran, is grieved at the E. Anguse, about the title of Mourton, which was evicted from him by the E. Anguse since his restoaring.

The Mr. Grey, sure to England, well beloved, and followed of the active and militarie sort, of very good and great parts, and therefor to bee confirmed by all good means, specially in respect to the motives that carried him to the English part; heed to be taken that no dishonour nor contumelie bee offerd him, as the late varieing about his employment into Flandres was like to be construed. If hee could bee so wrought hear and in Flandres, that his favour and offices toward England might stand upon a religious ground, as they doe upon honour, it wear better for him self, and surer for hir majestie.

L. Clloyd, for many causes, may be suspected, though hee bee English in pretence. The secret conference hee was sayed to have with the French ambassadour the time of his beeing theear, and with that part which make reckoning of him as their own. His behaviour and countenance towards the English ambassadour and his company, which, though it had soon shew and colour of friendship sett upon it, yet, by divers signes, might easily appear that it was nothing but counterfeit and forced. The course of his life past, which, by report of their stoary, etc., seemeth to have been ambitious, cruel, dissembling, etc.; as having this scope to trouble the state theear, so muche as might bee for soom consequence that might fall owt to the howse of Hamiltons.

His want and nead, which not beeing supplied by soom pension, etc., out of England (as divers of them looked for, and would plainly and openly speak of), might the rather move him to tourn his hope toward Fraunce for soomthing thence, as it seemeth he hath doon.
His brother, Lord Hamilton, sheweth friendly; and beeing of an honest and religious disposition (as the better sort report of him), it may bee thought hee meaneth soundly. The Mr. Glammes pretendeth well, but is familiar with the neutrall part, namely, with the Secretarie; byside, the shew and apparaunce of his friendship beareth no lyfe in it, but a sadness and driness, which may argue soom double and doubtful meaning.

The English part seemeth but small and weak, but strengthened at this tyme by the K. favour and disposition toward England.

2. French Part.—E. Huntly, Sutherland, Cathnese; L. Flemming, Seeton, Maxwell, etc., of the Popish faction.—Though presently quiet, for that soom of them ar but young, and Fraunce in state as it is, yet seemeth to bee strong and apt inough to move, when they gitt opportunitie to trouble the peace and amitie with England. In that respect not unlykely to joign with Arran, who is sayed to have solicited divers of them toward the north, having also favourers in the south, and is now towards Fraunce, as may seem, upon soom compact and confederacie, to resume that course with them, in the mean while having layed things a ripening at ho[me] against a good time. It would m[ake] [th]inges surer thear, if he wear intercepted.

3. Neutral.—Secretarie Matelan, and soon other that looked for pension and reward out of England of late, and were disappointed, as Justice-Clerk, Gl. etc., with those that were neutral in religion and parts before, as E. Errol, Orkney, Montrose, Bothwell, L. Hay, etc. Wearof soom deale not in matters at all, but sail still with the wynd. Soom (as the Secretarie) perswade a middle course, not to joign with Fraunce, etc. (for that they will seem to have soom regard of religion, and conceive no great hope out of Fraunce), nor yet to follow England, or depend on favour thence, but to joign with soom Protestant prince of good power in sure league, viz., by marriage, as well to relieve the Kinge's present want by dowrie as to strengthen him hearafter in the action of his claim to England, etc., and so to hold farre of, that England may rather seek and follow them then they England. This is thought by soom to bee the special end of the ambassage into Denmark, under pretence of the matter of the Orcades.

III. The Commons' Disposition.

The religious part follow England. That number seemeth not great, specially after so long preaching the Ghospel and the use of discipline. The causes—1. The licence and disorder of most part of the nobilitie, that can bear no yoke, and draw their followers, clients, etc. after them by their example. 2. Their often mutinies and disturbances, that dissolve all order, ecclesiall and civil. The best affected ar of Edinborough, and soon of the greater townes in the south part. The rest of the common sort follow the faction, and their Lord’s part, etc.
