

The Descendants of Daniel Shawhan III (1765-1840)

by Ronald T. Shawhan

First Generation

1. Daniel¹ SHAWHAN,¹ son of Daniel SHAWHAN and Margaret BELL, was born in Hampshire Co., VA/WV October 08, 1765. Daniel died January 2, 1840 in Rush County, IN, at 74 years of age.² He married Mary MCDOWELL in Mason Co., KY, 1792.³ Mary was born in Greenbrier Co., VA August 28, 1770. Mary was the daughter of Daniel MCDOWELL. Mary died November 17, 1848 in Rush Co., IN, at 78 years of age. Mary participated in the Buri event in Fairview Church, Rush Co., IN. Mary was the daughter of Daniel MCDowell, a Revolutionary War soldier who came to Bourbon Co. at an early date; while living in Kentucky he received a $40.00 annual pension for this service. He was buried 1840 in Fairview Church, Rush Co., IN.⁴

Daniel III was about 22 years old when his father moved the family from western Pennsylvania to the Kentucky District of Virginia and settled in the Ruddles Mills section of Bourbon County. In 1788, both he and his father signed a petition by Bourbon County residents to the seat of government in Virginia, asking to establish the town of Bourbon Courthouse. Virginia did establish a new county, Mason Co., in 1789, which was taken off of Bourbon Co.; the Shawhan property straddled the new county line — the stillhouse and barns lay in Bourbon Co. and the homestead lay in Mason Co. In 1790 Daniel took a flatboat load of the family's whiskey to New Orleans, returning on a horse he had purchased, carrying saddle bags laden with Spanish coins. This would be the first of many such trips that would be made to sell Shawhan whiskey. When his father died in 1791, Daniel became the family head. Together with his brother John, they continued to manage the family farm and distillery, with both making trips to New Orleans on flatboats loaded with "Old Bourbon Whiskey" and brandy. Kentucky was admitted as a state in 1792, shortly after Daniel III and Mary McDowell were married. They continued to live in the family homestead, which was in Mason County; Fleming Co. was created off of Mason Co. in 1798 — their residence and a part of the farm became a section of Fleming County, while the stillhouse, barns, and other parts of the farm remained in Bourbon County. Daniel farmed, raised well-bred horses and cattle, bought grain from his neighbors for his distillery, and sold a goodly amount of whiskey. He also accumulated a sizeable number of slaves who farmed and helped with the distillery. Family tradition holds that he became quite wealthy, but he was never certain as to the validity of his Kentucky land that had been originally settled by his father. IN 1825 John Quincy Adams was inaugurated President and John C. Calhoun, Vice President. That same year, after freeing his slaves and selling his share of the distillery to his brother Joseph, Daniel moved his family to Rush Co., Indiana where he farmed and was no longer connected to the distillery business; when he closed out his affairs in Kentucky he divided most of his wealth equally among his children. The August 1851 final settlement of his estate included the following provisions of his will, dated Dec. 31, 1839: "My will is first all my just debts shall be paid out of my personal estate if sufficient, and if not then I will that so much of my land as shall be sufficient shall be sold to pay my debts. Then I wish my wife to have my household furniture, one horse beast known by the name of Flim, also one cow known by the name of Lill, also eight head of sheep, two sets of horse gear, and one cutting box in the barn, and all the remainder of my land that is left after my debts are paid, to have and to hold the same during her life time for a home for her, also a home for Mary Lightfoot and her children so long as they wish to remain here, as I do not want them to be turned out of doors, but my wife is to have entire control over the premises and at her death I wish all my property both real and personal to be equally divided among my children and that John M. Shawhan is to be my Executor. Witnessed by David H. Drummond, William M. Shawhan, and Edward L. McGee."

2. Elizabeth Ann (Betsy)² SHAWHAN (Daniel 1)⁵ was born in Mason Co., KY October 27, 1793. Elizabeth died March 11, 1884 in Rush Co., IN, at 90 years of age. She married Mathew K. PRINE in Fleming Co., KY, April 13, 1815. Mathew was born in Maysville, Fleming Co., KY April 17, 1791. Mathew ⁶ was the son of Henry PERRINE and Elizabeth HOUSTON. Mathew died October 9, 1860 in Fayette Co., IN, at 69 years of age. Mathew was buried in Fairview Church, Rush Co., IN. The Prine family traced their ancestry back to Daniel Perrine, a French Huguenot, who arrived in the Colonies in 1665, initially settling in Elizabethtown, NJ. Mathew's father, Henry Perrine, was a veteran of the American Revolution; he married Elizabeth Houston in 1781, in NJ, and eventually came direct to Kentucky. It was Mathew and his brother, Kenneth, who used the phonetic spelling of the name — i.e. "Prine".

Elizabeth Ann (Betsy) SHAWHAN and Mathew K. PRINE had the following children:

- 10 i. Daniel Shawhan³ PRINE was born 1816.
- ii. Henry Houston PRINE was born in KY 1818. Henry died 1902 in IA, at 84 years of age. He married Elizabeth FOX about 1842. Elizabeth was born about 1820. Henry followed his brother Daniel to Iowa, taking up farming near Oskaloosa, specializing in blooded race horses other than farm stock.
- iii. Mary PRINE was born in KY 1820. She married Andrew NELSON about 1842. Andrew was born about 1820.
- 11 iv. Miles Kenneth PRINE was born 1821.
- v. John Lewis PRINE was born in KY 1823. John died 1875 in IA, at 52 years of age.
- vi. Joseph Fleming PRINE⁷ was born in IN 1825. Joseph died 1857 in Sigourney, IA, at 32 years of age. He married Paulina LOWE in IA, about 1847. Paulina was born in VA about 1826. Paulina was the daughter of Joseph LOWE and Sarah MCCAULEY. Relatives recall visiting Paulina and sleeping on two featherbeds, one on top of the other. Joseph was born "enroute", while the Daniel III Shawhan family, including the Prines, were migrating from Kentucky to Indiana. He became a school master in Sigourney, Iowa.
- vii. Harriet Ann PRINE was born in IN 1827. Harriet died 1856 in IA, at 29 years of age. She married Albert MINOR in IA, about 1848. Albert was born about 1825.
- viii. Martha Ann PRINE⁸ was born in IN 1830. Martha died 1903 in IA, at 73 years of age. She married John HOOD in IA, about 1852. John was born about 1826. John was an extensive landowner in Lucas Co., IA. Martha is remembered as someone who delighted in playing tricks on her relatives, often disguising herself and asking for accommodations. When she traveled, so as not to have to carry too much luggage, she would wear four dresses, one on top of the other.
- ix. Matthew Loeper PRINE was born in IN 1833. Matthew died 1900 in Norwalk, IA, at 67 years of age. He married Hester SHORT about 1857. Hester was born about 1834.

3. Joseph² SHAWHAN (Daniel 1)⁹ was born in Mason Co., KY September 23, 1796. Joseph died January 14, 1881 in Pike Co., IN, at 84 years of age. He married Elizabeth HILLMAN in Mason Co., KY, July 30, 1821.¹⁰ Elizabeth was born in Mason Co., KY March 20, 1796. Elizabeth ¹¹ was the daughter of Daniel HILLMAN and Heathy CRAIG. Elizabeth died August 9, 1851 in Pike Co., IN, at 55 years of age. Elizabeth was buried in Union, IN. There has been some confusion regarding Elizabeth's maiden name. The truth is she was a Hillman, being a daughter of Daniel and Heathy (Craig) Hillman. Her parents died when Elizabeth was young and she was raised by her older sister, who had married James Lounsdale; hence there are a few people who say that she was a Lounsdale.

Joseph was buried in Petersburg, IN. Joseph migrated to Gibson Co., IN in about 1822 and purchased some of the finest farm land available, in Clay Twp. In 1833 he sold the farm to his cousin, William McCune Shawhan, and bought a bigger property nearer Petersburg, Indiana. He and his family turned this farm into one of the more prosperous in the entire county. He became quite wealthy and was appointed a Lt. Colonel in the Indiana Militia.

Joseph SHAWHAN and Elizabeth HILLMAN had the following children:

- i. John Hillman³ SHAWHAN¹² was born in Pike Co., IN February 25, 1822. John died October 8, 1872 in Pike Co., IN, at 50 years of age. He married Elizabeth HUDSON in Pike Co., IN, January 6, 1859. Elizabeth was born about 1827.

She married John LIGHTFOOT in Fleming Co., KY, 1817. John was born in KY about 1795. John died in KY. John drowned while operating a saw mill. Mary and John probably migrated from Kentucky to Marion Co., Indiana in about 1825. In 1848 she and her children lived with her parents in Rush Co., IN. Mary is remembered by her family members as always being beautifully dressed and very charming, with a keen zest for living.

Mary (Polly) and John LIGHTFOOT had the following children:

- 18 i. Pauline³ LIGHTFOOT was born about 1819.
- ii. Daniel LIGHTFOOT was born about 1822.

6. John McDowell² SHAWHAN (Daniel 1)¹⁵ was born in Mason Co., KY May 6, 1806. John died March 1, 1866 in Fayette Co., IN, at 59 years of age. He married Sarah PARRISH in IN, June 18, 1828. Sarah was born in Cincinnati, OH June 27, 1808. Sarah was the daughter of Zachariah PARRISH and Phoebe GARD. Sarah died August 11, 1883 in Rush Co., IN, at 75 years of age. Sarah buried in Fairview, Rush Co., IN. John was buried in Rushville, IN.

John has been described as a tall, graceful, austere handsome man, stern but kind. He was a very wealthy and influential member of the community, owning 600 acres of prime Rush County, IN land and another 600 acres in Iowa at the time of his death. He was quite active in breeding blooded horses, maintaining a private race track on his land near Falmouth, Indiana; he once owned a famous race horse and stud named "Tom Hal". His daughters were also expert horsewomen, winning many prizes for their skills at fairs in the area. In 1852 he built a large home which boasted the distinction of having a ballroom on the second floor, reached by a beautiful curving staircase; a billiard room and a music room were also featured, with interior trim largely of solid walnut and cherry. John was well-known for his charitable works and was a large donor to the formation of Fairview Academy, forerunner of Butler University. One of his nephews wrote about a visit to "Uncle John's Home".

"Uncle John took Pa to the large cellar (I followed, of course) where in War Times (Civil War) he had stored 75 barrels of Good Old Bourbon. (I regret to say that Uncle John visited it too often). Uncle, with a black boy or two, showed us around the barn and the horses. They bred mostly harness horses, a few trotters, and had a half-mile track, for they trained their horses regularly. Garrett, "Hoosier", the oldest son, would take a string of horses down to Mobile, Alabama, race them, sell them, and come home for more. When the War broke out, it caught Garrett down at Mobile with a string of horses; he never came back but remained in the South. His (Garrett's) old Uncle Joe (John's brother Joseph) called all his brother's family "rebels" over it. Uncle John cried as he told Pa about it. The Shawhans had set their slaves free before coming to Indiana. Some begged to come along, so they kept them."

During the Civil War, since John Shawhan was so closely related to his Kentucky slave-owning cousins, and an elder son, Joseph, resided in Cynthiana, KY, he found his Indiana neighbors hostile towards him — for a time his life was in danger. The son, Joseph Shawhan, was not allowed to return to Indiana, but a cousin, Henry Lail, of Cynthiana, was visiting John's family because of his attachment to Mary Elizabeth Shawhan, John's daughter. When local officials sought to conscript the young Lail into the Union Army, John paid several hundred dollars to hire a substitute to go in his place.

During the Civil War, he served as a Musician (drummer), a Private, in Co. E., 14th Iowa Infantry, from Sep. 28, 1861 to Nov. 25, 1863; his monthly pay was $14.73, with a clothing allowance of $3.96, and subsistence of $5.40 — total amount $24.09. Miles was a Lt. with the "Madison Blues" during the Civil War. After the War, Miles went into the business of blooded stock raising, exporting, and shipping to all the fine breeders of stock in the United States, Canada, and Great Britain. She was in the same spot in church whenever the doors were open. If anyone was in need he or she could always find help in her. Whenever she came into a group, it was as though someone turned on a ray of sunshine. Regardless of what the situation was she always had a little verse or poem to fit the occasion. She helped several young people through college when their own funds were insufficient. She noticed the birds, the flowers, the sunsets, and all those things so many people miss in life. Mary Belle Nichols was one that really took time to enjoy life."

John, having been born in Kentucky, with many relations residing there who were wealthy slave owners, the Civil War found him sympathizing with the Southern Cause in a community anti-rebel. He was suspected of treasonable activities by the Hoosiers and at one time his life was in such danger that he erected a pole, said to have been 75 ft. high, surmounted with a bell to call his neighbors to his assistance in case of trouble. There absolutely was no basis for such action, or suspicions, other than finding a man to take the place of GEORGE HENRY LAIL, in the Union Army. Young Lail had come north on a visit and was about to be conscripted in an army fighting his own brothers, and in a cause inimical to his convictions, so there was justification for his later father-in-law's action. She traced her ancestry back to a Revolutionary War veteran, DAR ID #42706, for William Huston, Captain, 2nd Bn, Cumberland County, PA Militia. Garrett raised, trained, and drove thoroughbred trotters. Prior to the Civil War, Garrett would take a string of his family’s prize horses from their Indiana home to Mobile, AL, where he would race and then sell them before returning home for another string. He was caught in Mobile at the start of the War, and, since his sympathies lay with the South, he elected to make his home there, though he returned to Indiana to marry a native of that state. Among Sarah's prize possessions are Effie's diaries. One of the many stories about Effie is the tale about how she would use her twin daughters, Bernice and Gladys, as models in department store windows; she would exhibit them as a singular model, displaying the attire of the time which was long dresses, flamboyant hats, and a lot of paraphernalia. One of them would come out into the window display, dressed to the nines. Then when she would leave the window, a very short time would elapse, and the other one would come out in a completely different outfit, also dressed in the latest fashion! People would look on in amazement, trying to figure how one person could change clothes so quickly! It always created quite a stir and brought lots of business to the store.

Dr. John Lail was a beloved family doctor in Indiana -- some of the babies he delivered carry his name as bestowed by grateful parents. After practicing in Worthington and Anderson, Indiana, John and his wife Effie moved to Seattle, Washington, where they are now buried in Washelli Cemetery, in a Seattle suburb. The "History of Madison County", published in 1914, recaps the life of Dr. Lail and his contributions to the community. He graduated from the Physio-Medical College in Indianapolis in 1893, initially opening his office in Ingalls, Indiana. In 1906 he moved his practice to Anderson, where he was known for "keen discernment in the diagnosis of a case, sound judgement in prescribing medicines and methods of treatment, thorough understanding of anatomy, and marked skill in the operating room".

Narcissa was born on the plantation of her grandfather, Captain Henry Augustine Tayloe — the Tayloes were one of the most prominent families in early Virginia. 1685. Narcissa received her early schooling from private tutors and at Barton Academy. While still a teenager she wrote articles for Mobile newspapers. After her marriage she became very active in the social events of Mobile. After the unfortunate early death of her only child, Narcissa began an intensive study of parliamentary law and correct club procedure. She subsequently became a nationally-noted parliamentarian, and authored several excellent reference textbooks on the subject. She was also very active in Presbyterian Church matters. Narcissa traced her ancestry back to a Revolutionary War veteran, DAR ID #34454, for Robert Lemon, a sergeant who enlisted in 1776, from Westmoreland Co., PA, and fought at such battles as Amboy, Brandywine, and Eutaw Springs. Mobile City Directories of the period show Charles owning a gentleman's clothing store at 107 Dauphin Street.

One evening, after calling on Della, he was sleepy on the way home, so he tied the lines around the whip holder, then leaned back and went to sleep. The horses knew the way home but when they turned into the home lane, they turned too short, upsetting the buggy and Bert into a ditch which had muddy water in it — a rude awakening. Before he went to bed, he made sure that the buggy was cleaned, in addition to himself and his clothes. This led to a varied career in the entertainment field, starting when he was attending Pomona College in Claremont, CA in 1923. A bass singer, he organized a college quartet which attained enough fame to be offered a vaudeville contract. Beginning in 1927 they traveled for three years under the name of "The Cheerleaders", appearing at picture houses on the West Coast. In 1929 they headed west to try talking pictures, appearing in the Paul Whiteman film, "King of Jazz". After their marriage, they bought a lot and, together with Elmer's Dad and a couple others, they built themselves a house. Dorothy had an art studio for a time, but during WWII she became a draftsman in the Engineering Dept. of Douglas Aircraft. After the War she worked for a Beverly Hills architect for a while before retiring to her painting, selling some of her work through a gallery in Laguna Beach.

As a young man, he worked for the Pacific Fruit Express Railway Co., before being drafted during WWII, in which he served as a Navy Radarman on a LCI in the Pacific Theater of Operations. Surviving deadly typhoons and Kamikaze attacks, he returned to civilian life as a much decorated veteran, carrying a Purple Heart and four Bronze Stars. He again worked with the Pacific Fruit Express Railway Company and then with the government in Job Services Employment. Typical of his limb of the Shawhan Family, he was a gifted tenor who appeared on live radio in its heyday. He was an avid fisherman, often taking fishing trips, with Laverta accompanying him, but she would usually sit and read. He and Laverta are both buried in Dry Creek Cemetery, near Star, ID.

They had the following child:

251 i. Carl⁶ SHAWHAN was born March 15, 1941.

163. Robert Elmo “Bob”⁵ SHAWHAN (Glenn Elmo 90)¹²⁰ was born in Boise, ID April 8, 1911. He married Beulah “Ulah” DAVIS in Fairfield, VT, June 2, 1937. Beulah was born 1909. Ulah received a degree in Education and had a fulfilling career as a teacher, in both Jr. High and in High School. She is known far and wide for her famous berry pies. Bob attended the College of Idaho for two years, followed by a year at Lamar College in Denver before moving to New York to attend Columbia University. It was after one year in New York that he married Ulah Davis. As a musician he has appeared professionally as a singer with such bands as those headed by Freddy Martin and Fred Waring; he has also been featured on radio and TV shows. During WWII he worked at a Douglas Aircraft Plant in Long Beach, California. Between singing engagements, he pursued a career with the California Dept. of Agriculture as a customs agent. Willard died December 2, 1953 in Fox Island, Pierce Co., WA, at 40 years of age.¹²¹ He married Vivian MILLER in Caldwell, Canyon Co., ID, May 29, 1937.¹²² Vivian was born in St. John, OR May 12, 1913. Vivian also attended the College of Idaho, receiving a degree in Education. When relaxing from her role as an elementary teacher in the Tacoma, WA area, she enjoys her hobbies of knitting, stitching, and gardening. Willard attended the College of Idaho for two years, then began working in the bee-honey business, prior to WWII. He subsequently spent many years as a photographer in Visala, CA before moving north to Portland, OR where he added welding to his work efforts. The family later made another move, to the state of Washington, where he worked for the school system and managed summer camps on Fox Island. A skilled woodworking craftsman, he built numerous pieces of furniture, many of which have been preserved by his daughter. He was a gifted singer — several of his early recordings are in the possession of his descendants. He was also an avid fisherman.

secretary at Tacoma General Hospital. An avid baseball fan, she also enjoys knitting and tracing her family roots; included in her findings are letters sent home by Joseph Henry Shawhan during the Civil War. Peggy has been a source of much of the family data relevant to the descendants of Joseph Henry Shawhan, for which we are very grateful; in particular, her collection of ancestral photos has added to the heritage.

254 ii. Gertrude Maureen (Trudi) SHAWHAN was born March 14, 1942.

In 1963, when she moved to San Luis Obispo, she joined Cal Poly as an accounting specialist; she eventually retired from that institution. Helen now enjoys club work and gardening. Her father, Fred Krumpeck, emigrated alone from Austria to the USA at the age of 17, eventually working in Michigan and Illinois before going to California; her mother, Josephine Vacek, was also born in Austria. Helen and her husband, Harry, have been quite active in tracing the Shawhan family heritage, and have been very generous in sharing the results of their research.

A gifted bass singer, Harry sang in a quartet during his high school days. He then attended the College of Idaho. During WWII Harry worked at the Lockheed Aircraft Plant in Burbank, CA as an inspector on the P38 (Lightning) assembly line. He subsequently was an Audio/Visual Technician with the City of Pasadena and with the school system in San Luis Obispo, from which he retired. A skilled tinkerer and electrician, he has patented a few mechanical devices. For relaxation he enjoys playing the organ and being a bass singer in local quartets and as a solo performer.

Born in Boise, ID, Mary inherited the talent and enjoyment of music from her parents, often singing in choirs and various musical productions. As the only girl in her family, she had to put up with much teasing from her five older brothers. She attended Sterling College in Kansas, where she met her husband, Richard “Dick” Kneidl. Their four children were all born in different locations, as Dick’s career in aviation frequently resulted in moves. Following Dick’s retirement, they have spent a majority of their time attending and organizing Air Stream rallies throughout the country. Mary has in her possession the sword carried by Joseph Henry Shawhan during the Civil War.

Mary Margaret SHAWHAN and Richard John “Dick” KNEIDL had the following children:

Arletta Marie SHAWHAN and Benjamin C. DENNIS had the following children: Dorothy⁶ and Donald E., born in 1925.

168. Mary Gertrude⁵ SHAWHAN (Walter Brice 92)¹²⁹ was born in Hutchinson, KS December 1, 1891. Mary died June 16, 1976 in Van Nuys, CA, at 84 years of age. He married Ruth Haynes MILLER in Hutchinson, KS, December 19, 1915. Ruth was born in Cloverport, KY March 12, 1892. Ruth died January 7, 1952 in Los Angeles, CA, at 59 years of age.

MEMORIES (By Juliann Elizabeth (Giles) Rankin-Clarke, Granddaughter) Ruth Haynes (Miller) Shawhan was born 12 March, 1894, the tenth child of eleven children born to Lewis Miller and Elizabeth Ann (Hendrick) Miller. My grandmother was 13 years old in 1905 when the family moved from Cloverport, Kentucky to Hutchinson, Kansas. But she always pined for her "Old Kentucky Home," she loved so dearly. She described it in her records, "Where I lived until I was 13 yrs old." "Breckinridge County, Kentucky, Cloverport (originally Joesville) was the nearest town. I lived on a farm on Hardin Road, near the estate of Captain William Hardin, whom Hardinsburg, Kentucky is named after. Cloverport was 4 miles from our farm. My father had about 600 acres of good land called bottom land on the Ohio River. My father raised tobacco as the main cash crop, corn, wheat, sweet potatoes and all our garden vegetables. My father made his own molasses, own sugar or corn sugar and maple syrup and maple sugar. He raised fine hogs, geese, beef cattle, horses and a few milk cows. The farm had fine grazing land for the horses and cattle and my father also raised maze and alfalfa for food for the livestock. Our farm had its own natural springs with water ice cold. Had a large fruit orchard. Had black walnut trees, berries (black, dew, and goose), hickory nuts, beech nuts, hazel nuts, black and red Haw's berries, persimmons, wild grapes, wild plums, ginseng roots, yellow root, wild peppermint, wild spearmint, sassafras root, papaw, a fruit that looks a little like a banana, and green onions. There were plenty of wild rabbits and squirrels. Lots and lots of flowers in the front yard of the farmhouse and the dogwood trees and wildflowers and ferns were beautiful in the summer. Coal was lying around on the farm. There was an old Indian burial ground and lots of flints all over the farm. A nice country home for 11 children. Four miles from Cloverport, Kentucky are the Breckinridge Tar and White Sulphur Springs, a health resort in the summer. This is only 2 miles from my father's farm and where I went to picnic in the summertime and my name was written on the big rocks when I was a little girl. I loved the tar water and the moss that grew there and the ferns. My dad and mother loved to go there." Ruth Haynes Miller had a very close and loving family. She was especially close to her younger sister Pearl. In 1914 she married Leslie Lyon Shawhan. Leslie was a good friend of two of her brothers, Raymond Lewis Miller and Virgil Scott Miller. Ruth and Leslie's first son, Robert Leslie was born in 1916. By 1918, Leslie had returned from the "Great War" WWI and in 1920 shortly after their daughter, Clara Elizabeth's birth, the family moved to Los Angeles, California. In Los Angeles, Ruth worked off and on as a nurse practitioner. From the late 1920's until her death in 1952 of pancreas cancer, my grandmother spent much of her time researching her genealogy and trying to prove the connection to "Heirs of the Joseph Ball Estate." I have all of my grandmother's research in my possession. "The Ball Estate," as it was always referred to by my grandmother, Ruth Haynes (Miller) Shawhan, and other relatives, was that of a Joseph Ball who died intestate in Pennsylvania in 1821. Mere mention of the "estate" at any Miller family gathering would spark endless lively discussion. When the estate was finally settled, all would agree, their "ship would come in" and they would all be rich. They were relying, it is believed, on J. W. Compton's report dated 10 September, 1897. Mr. Compton had been hired by a number of heirs to investigate the Joseph Ball estate. Apparently my relatives failed to realize, or perhaps did not know, that the liquid assets of the estate had dwindled to practically nothing and that distributions of the little that did remain had probably already been made. Joseph Ball was not a direct ancestor but was rather the nephew of a direct ancestor. Memories of my grandmother are many. I spent lots of time with her. My grandmother had red hair and a temper to match. I was never the receiver of her outbursts of anger, but most often it was my grandfather or my mother. My mother's relationship with her mother was strained at times, as my grandmother always thought my mother favored my grandfather and she was somewhat jealous of their close relationship. I would stay with my grandmother for days at a time. I remember the softness of her skin, when she would hold me and her smell of lavender. She also used Mavis talcum powder in the red can and Jergens hand lotion. Whenever I smell either of these scents I think of my grandmother. I remember lots of love and lots of music whenever we were all together. My grandmother worked for a short time at Exposition Park in the basement of the Los Angeles Museum where the stereoscopes for viewing the stereographs were housed. Sometimes I would go with her. It was a short walking distance from her home at 3569 « So. Hoover. I would play in the nearby rose garden pretending I was a princess and these were my castle grounds. There was a fountain and pond in the middle of the rose garden with goldfish in it. I convinced my grandmother to take one of "my" goldfish home. She objected but gave in to my insistence. It is surprising what one will do for the love of a grandchild! On my visits I would often take home a doll that had belonged to my Uncle Jack, at this time he was in the navy in WWII. The doll's name was Jimmy. I loved that doll and would not want to return it to my grandmother. She would call my mother on the phone and insist that Judy (my nickname) would have to return it and I would always tell her Jimmy had chickenpox or the measles and had to stay with me a little longer and she would always give in. I believe the doll was eventually given to my Uncle Jack's first born son Jackie or Jack Jr. Other memories are of going to the store and buying butter. The brand was Challenge and there was a stag on the label, it is still in the stores today. I would always lick the butter wrapper with the sweet salty taste and my grandmother would always have a fit. This was not acceptable to her. She was very clean, in fact you could eat off her floors!! When you took a bath, the tub had to be immediately scoured with cleanser and clorox. Her home smelled like a hospital. My grandmother was very touchy about her age. She was two years older than my grandfather but would never admit to it. So she signed everything with the year of birth 1894 instead of 1892. When I was small my grandmother asked me to call her Ruth and not Grandma. One day we were at the 5 & 10 cent store and I got lost and started crying and calling for my "grandma." After that she never asked me to call her Ruth. My grandmother made my mother promise when she died to put 1894 on the gravestone, which my mother did for her. But knowing the importance of exact dates in the genealogy work I have done, I am holding to the truth and counting on my grandmother's forgiveness. My grandmother always said she wanted me to carry on her work with the family genealogy and I promised I would. So I think she would be proud of me for this. My grandmother lost her "Old Kentucky Home" at thirteen and I lost her at the same age, but as her memories of Kentucky never faded and remained with her throughout her life, so shall my loving memories of her.

Leslie Lyon Shawhan was born in Hutchinson, Kansas, where he spent his youth. He was a very handsome young man. Leslie became a printer and married Ruth Haynes Miller, in 1914 in Hutchinson, Kansas. His first son, Robert Leslie Shawhan was born in 1916. In 1918, Leslie Lyon Shawhan served in World War I in France as a Captain in the United States Army. After the war, he returned to Hutchinson, Kansas, where his daughter, Clara Elizabeth Shawhan was born in 1920. Shortly after her birth (nine weeks) the family moved to Los Angeles, California. Leslie and his family were the first of the Shawhans to move to California but by 1922, his grandfather Daniel, grandmother Mary, father Walter, mother Clara, uncle Robert Frank, brother Harold Robert, sister Mary Gertrude and sister Clara Thelma all were living in California. Also in 1922, Leslie's son, Jack Vernon Shawhan was born. In Los Angeles, Leslie Shawhan went into the produce business, supplying produce for the local markets. But by 1929 the Great Depression had started and hard times lay ahead. The Great Depression lasted until 1939 and during this time Leslie held many different jobs as a handy man, doing general work for people — i.e. fixing roofs, electrical repairing and laying linoleum. During the 1940's Leslie spent some time in the Veteran's Administration Hospital in Prescott, Arizona with tuberculosis. Upon his recovery, he returned to his family in Los Angeles and lived to the age of 62. He died in 1956, at which time, he lived at 3511 So. Hoover Street, L.A., and did general work for Cedars of Lebanon Hospital. The house where he lived is no longer standing, it became the property of University of Southern California (USC) and a tennis court now covers the area. My memories of my grandfather Leslie are very vivid, as he spent much of his time with us. My mother and her father were very close. My grandfather was a great storyteller and he would talk of the old days of family and friends and old times. When I was small I had a lot of ear aches and my grandfather would blow his warm pipe smoke into my ear to ease the pain and rock me. I also remember watching with fascination as he would hand roll his own cigarettes by taking out a cigarette paper and very carefully pouring Bull Durham tobacco from a cloth sack with a draw string. He would pull the string with his teeth to close the sack and with both hands holding the paper, pat the tobacco with both index fingers and roll the paper and lick it sealed. I still have a potholder that my grandfather made while recovering from tuberculosis in Prescott, Arizona. My grandfather and grandmother loved music. My grandfather played the banjo, I still have his banjo, and both my grandfather and grandmother sang. I was told by my Mother that grandpa and grandma had both sang and played music in a vaudeville show on the famed Orpheum Circuit of the Midwest for a short time in their early years.

Leslie Lyon SHAWHAN and Ruth Haynes MILLER had the following children:

- i. Robert Leslie⁶ SHAWHAN¹³¹ was born in Hutchinson, KS August 10, 1916. Robert died December 1, 1981 in Los Angeles, CA, at 65 years of age. MEMORIES (By Juliann Elizabeth Rankin-Clarke, Niece) Robert Leslie Shawhan was born in Hutchison, Kansas, the first child of Leslie Lyon Shawhan and Ruth Haynes (Miller) Shawhan. At the age of four, he moved with his family to Los Angeles, California. His nickname given him by his parents was Sonny, Bobbie or Bob. Robert Leslie was born mentally retarded. He lived with his mother and father until their deaths and then on his own until the last few years of his life, which were spent in a care facility. Robert Leslie for many years worked at Ralphs Market, bagging groceries and stocking shelves. My memories of my Uncle Bob are special. I spent lots of time with him when I was growing up at my Grandma and Grandpa's house. At night, before we went to bed, Grandma would give us graham crackers and milk. Then in the living room, Uncle Bob would get into the old murphy bed and I would sleep on the couch. We would start to laugh and keep in up until my Grandma would yell out from the bedroom to be quiet and go to sleep. This would be repeated over and over at each of my visits. I remember my mother always saying that, "If God made Angels on earth, then her brother Bob was one." Everyone loved my Uncle, he was very sweet, kind and lovable. We spent all our holidays together as one big extended family .I also remember my Uncle Bob cutting the arm of his wooden rocking chair with his pocketknife. When my Grandmother found out she scolded him. After my Uncle's death, the rocking chair came to my mother. My father filled in my Uncle knife marks, but you can still see the discoloration where the marks were. When I am at home and sometimes sit in the rocking chair looking at the arm, fond memories return of my Uncle Bob.

He married Lillian Odessa BAKER in Hutchinson, KS, June 10, 1920. Lillian was born in Cleveland, TN December 4, 1898. Harold volunteered for the Army during WWI and was sent to France as a member of a reconnaissance team which would creep out beyond the trenches into no-man's land at night to detect any enemy activity. In 1918 his unit was hit by a German mustard gas attack; of his 16-man group, he was the only one to survive. The gas burned his face and body badly and seriously scarred his lungs; he was also left temporarily blind, deaf, and dumb. He eventually recovered from his wounds, received a Purple Heart, and returned to Kansas where he married his childhood sweetheart. Due to his lung condition, he was urged by his doctors to move to a more agreeable climate, so he relocated to Los Angeles where he joined the Pacific Telephone Company, from which he eventually retired as a Central Office Technician. As a hobby he loved to do crossword puzzles.

Charles traces his Caldwell ancestry back to John Caldwell who migrated from Scotland in the late 1700s, becoming a minister in Ohio County, VA/WV. Family members moved westward, to Iowa in 1836, in Indian Territory, occupied by the Blackhawk tribe; they operated a ferry across the Des Moines River. In the 1880s the Caldwells migrated to the prairie country, near Idana, KS. His Dodson ancestors migrated from So. England to the American Colonies in 1687, locating in Richmond, VA. They too moved west, first to Lewis Co., VA/WV, and subsequently, in 1896, to Kansas. Charles was born on a farm near Clay Center, KS, in which his father grew wheat and raised shorthorn cattle to be shipped to the Kansas City stockyards. As a member of 4-H, Charles raised fat calves which he showed at area fairs. He also loved baseball. In 1930 he survived scarlet fever. The Depression hit in 1933, but Charles family was able to manage without money due to their farm produce — chickens, eggs, beef, pork, and vegetables. Charles attended Kansas State University, taking a Milling Science course, but when WWII broke out he enlisted in the US Navy on Jan. 20, 1942. He trained at Great Lakes and at Chicago's Navy Pier, spending a total of three years and eight months in the service, eighteen months of which were spent in the South Pacific as an airplane carburetor specialist, working on engines for Avenger TBM torpedo planes and PT boats; in addition to fighting the ravages of malaria, he also survived Pacific Island snakes — pythons, corals, and bushmasters. In civilian life he has worked as a flour miller in a number of different mills, retiring as Plant Supt. from Archer Daniel Midland in 1981. He enjoys hunting, fishing, golf, woodwork, and gardening. He's had both knees replaced and has also overcome cancer. Charles has been very helpful in detailing the family lines of the Caldwell/Shawhan tree limb providing photos and other pertinent information. He also produced an ancestral book, tracing his Caldwell/Shawhan/Dodson lineage, for private distribution among his family members.

Ken attended Evansville College, dropping out after two years to raise a family. He became a self-educated mining engineer and followed that occupation most of his adult life, eventually retiring from Peabody Coal Company as Chief Engineer of their mines near Waverly, in Union Co., KY. He’s a Kentucky Colonel, a member of The Society of Mining Engineers, and of St. Benedict’s Catholic Church, where he was the basketball coach of their school team. He’s also been associated with the Evansville Thunder, a professional basketball team in the Continental Basketball Association, and was an assistant coach at Reitz Memorial High School. Despite all of these activities, Ken’s real labor of love has been in the field of genealogy. He’s been researching his family’s history for some forty years, reviewing documents in the National Archives, and the state and county records of Maryland, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Indiana, Illinois, and Missouri. He has also interviewed numerous Shawhan family descendants and has meticulously organized and computerized his copious notes. At all times he has been more than willing to share his findings with interested parties. In addition he has authored narratives covering his ancestral research; these chronicles are particularly interesting and noteworthy because Ken always draws parallels between family events and historical happenings in the United States. Ken has been very quick in adopting new technology — he was one of the first Shawhan family researchers to utilize the PC as a genealogical tool and was the first to author an Internet web page devoted to the family history of the Shawhans and related families. To this fine gentleman we should chorus an enthusiastic, “Thanks much, Ken — God bless you for your help and encouragement!”

Born in 1930, Mary lived through some very trying times as a youngster in Nazi Germany. An outstanding athlete, she was being groomed to become a potential Olympic candidate, but WWII intervened. A stepbrother of hers was captured by the Russians, sent to Siberia, and was never heard from again. During the War, Mary worked on a farm, with Polish POWs, and also in a hotel used to rehabilitate wounded German military personnel. After the War, the hotel was taken over by the American Army. The Hoaglands settled in New Jersey, in Somerset County, in the early 1700s, where they soon became one of the more prominent families, several members of whom fought in the American Revolution, in such New Jersey battles as Bound Brook, Morristown, Princeton, and Springfield. Christopher Hoagland, born 1808, lived in Bound Brook, NJ and worked on the Raritan Canal as a tanner — i.e. someone who was skilled in leather work — e.g. the making of harnesses for the horses who worked the canal; he eventually migrated to Humboldt, NE, where Jerry's Mother, Helen, was born.

A twin to her brother, Bruce, Linda graduated from Washington Park High School in Racine, and has subsequently attended Gulf Coast Community College in Panama City, FL. Growing up, Linda did some babysitting, shoveled snow in the winter, and cut grass in the summer to make a little mad money. Since she had a twin brother, she had to do everything he did, except the paper route. As twins they always got into trouble together. Instead of bringing flowers to their mother, from their garden, about 5 blocks away, they put little green grass snakes, worms, and crickets in their pockets and brought them to her. When they were about 4 years old, they received a new pair of shoes. While their Mom and Dad were busy unloading groceries from the car, she and Bruce decided to take their new shoes for a walk. Luckily, a neighbor was walking home from work and spotted them, holding hands and laughing, about a mile from home. Not long after that, they had gone down to a pond in the cemetery to catch pollywogs. Bruce slipped in (neither could swim) and the water was over his head. Linda tried everything to help, screaming and yelling — luckily, their mother came running; by the time she got to the pond, a man had heard Linda's yelps and had jumped in the pool and pulled Bruce out — they thanked their guardian angel. Currently, Linda works together with her husband at an Allstate Insurance Co. office in Panama City, Florida. She enjoys the nearby St. Andrew Bay Yacht Club, and has developed into an avid, enthusiastic family researcher, stretching the phone lines across the USA in pursuit of additional information. She also recently acquired a computer genealogy program to better organize and control her findings. We are most indebted to Linda for the research she has contributed to this Shawhan Family History project.

This included a stint as a professor at Drake University in Des Moines, IA; he was also the Director of the National Rehabilitation Institute. He has also worked for the Allstate Insurance Company as an agent in Des Moines. He is presently the State Coordinator of Job Placement, in Iowa, for the Blind. For hobbies, his favorite pastimes include fishing and hunting. His memories of his grandfather, Dr. Glenn, include his visits to the doctor's office, which was located above the Harmony Cafe — a great place for a youngster to obtain some delicious pie. Carl also recalls the many family gatherings with his aunts, uncles, and cousins in which the whole clan would engage in happy songfests; sometimes the drinking of beer would have to be put on hold until Henry Hubert Shawhan, the minister, would leave the affair.

259. Clara Elizabeth (Betty)⁶ SHAWHAN (Leslie Lyon 169)¹⁵² was born in Hutchinson, Reno Co., KS October 19, 1920. Clara died May 22, 1990 in Los Angeles Co., CA, at 69 years of age. She married Sidney Walter GILES in Los Angeles, CA, April 3, 1937. Sidney was born in Manitoba, Canada May 20, 1916. Sidney¹⁵³ is the son of Wesley Sherman GILES and Clara PEARSON.

His daughter Juliann recalls: “Sidney Walter Giles was the second son of Wesley Sherman Giles and Clara Pearson. At 4 years of age his mother died of throat cancer and his father took Sidney and his younger brother Leonard from Canada to the United States to find work. The oldest child James and baby sister, Audrey were left with relatives in Canada to raise and they took their mother’s maiden name of Pearson. When they first came to the United States, they lived in Los Angeles, California with Uncle Jim (Sidney’s uncle on his father’s side) and Aunt Lil. Growing up without a mother, Sidney and his brother Leonard lived in several boarding houses. First with a Mrs Thurman, and then with Wilma Wittman and her family. She was like a mother to the boys, raising them along with her own children. As a young man Sidney worked in the Civilian Conservation Corp (CCC) at Mount Baldy, California, Jackson Hole, Wyoming and finally Red Bluff, California. After meeting Clara Elizabeth Shawhan and marrying on April 3 1937, he started working for Packard Bell, as a cabinet refinisher. During WWII, he worked at the shipyards for Cal Ship in Long Beach as a plumber. Because he built war ships and it was considered a defense job he was given a deferment for a time. Eventually he was drafted in the Army. He was inducted at Fort MacArthur in San Pedro and served basic training at Camp Lee, Virginia. His Quartermaster unit was ready to go to China when the war ended. This was all in a matter of three months or so. My father’s return from the army is one of my most vivid memories. He came in on a troop train with hundreds of other soldiers to the Los Angeles train depot. There were mobs of people, hugging and crying and trying to find their loved ones. Sidney then went to work for C.B. VanVorst, a mattress company, driving trucks and retired in 1980 after 35 years. As a small child, I always remember my father working in the garage on cars. He was one of those exceptional people that could do anything; fix jewelry, appliances, cars and anything around the house. My father always did everything himself and still does to this day. When anything needs repair my father is always called upon by my sister and I and now our children and even his neighbors ask for help. He has always been very hard working. My father was also very talented with inventing a solution to any repair problem. My dad loved the beach, and I remember many a trip to Huntington Beach. He also loved to hunt and fish. I did not go on his hunting trips but did lots of trout fishing with my dad and even surf fishing at the ocean. On our yearly summer vacation, our camp site was the envy of everyone around. My father would build us a wash basin and anything else we needed to make our camp life comfortable. People would come to see our camp site and marvel at all the ingenuity he had applied. My father is a wonderful gardener. His garden has always been very beautiful. The roses are exceptional and he enjoys puttering around as I do. He also enjoys growing tomatoes, lemons and different herbs. Recently, to the whole family's dismay, he had to cut down the diseased avocado tree that had provided the family and friends with the best avocados around for thirty some odd years. My father has rescued many a sickly plant from my yard and taken it home and nursed it into a healthy thriving specimen. He really has a green thumb, mine is a few shades lighter!! Everything in his garden has always been very neat and tidy, no weeds hanging around!! Since my mother's death, my father has lived alone. He has lots of friends and still belongs to a couple of senior citizen groups that he and mom had joined in retirement. He takes care of his home and yard himself at age 83. Still doing most of all the repairs and maintenance on his car and house. His house is spotless, yard always well manicured, and he is a wonderful cook, especially with bakery goods. The ladies in club always want my father to bake cookies or some other goody for their functions. This is another thing my father and I enjoy together, cooking. Sometimes when we are visiting together we have baking contests with pies and we also try new recipes out on the rest of the family. We have lots of fun together; my father visits my husband and I a couple of times a year. And I try to go to L.A. as often as I can. We all get together for the major holidays and for the last seven years have spent a family vacation together each summer.

Clara Elizabeth "Betty" Shawhan was the middle child and only daughter of Leslie Lyon Shawhan and Ruth Haynes (Miller) Shawhan. At nine weeks old, her family had moved from Kansas to Los Angeles, California. She grew up during the depression years, so faced some hard times in her early years. But she always said there was lots of love and laughter and music while growing up. She adored her father and he did her, but the relationship with her mother was strained at times. She always regretted they did not have a closer relationship. Betty was always very close to her brothers and loved them both very much. Their nickname for her was "Betty Jack." After her brothers' deaths, she continued to grieve for them. At 16 years old, she fell in love with Sidney Walter Giles and married him on the 3rd of April 1937 in Los Angeles, Los Angeles County, California. Sidney was the older brother to Leonard Giles who was a high school friend of Betty and introduced them. Two years later, her first daughter, Juliann Elizabeth Giles was born in 1939 and five years later in 1944 her second daughter, Patricia Ruth Giles was born. Betty toyed with the ideas of becoming a professional roller skater or a singer. She was very talented in both areas, but they were not very conducive professions for raising a family. Betty worked several jobs during her life time, as a waitress, at NutriLite Vitamin Company, at Angelus Paper Box Company as an operator, at U.S. Porcelain doing street signs and other enameled products, and finally at Thermador, building air conditioners. At her last job, she sustained a serious back injury that was to bother her the rest of her life, even after two back surgeries. On May 22, 1990, Clara Elizabeth (Shawhan) Giles died in the Kaiser Permanente Hospital in Bellflower, California from a blood clot that formed one day after knee surgery.

Memories (By Juliann Elizabeth Rankin-Clarke, daughter): My mother as a young girl must have been very popular. She was very beautiful with dark hair and green eyes and had a wonderful personality. Everyone she ever met loved her and coveted her friendship. To me, she was much more than a mother, she was always my best friend. When I was young the things I remember are my mother's singing and dancing, she had a beautiful voice and she loved to dance. Each year, she always took me to see the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus when it would come to town. We would always watch the train come in, then the parade of circus animals and performers walking to the vacant lot where the elephants would set up the "Big Tent." On Saturdays, we sometimes would catch the Red Car that would take us to downtown L.A. and go shopping, eat lunch at Clifton's Cafe and take in a movie. I also remember her tucking me in at night and saying, "Sleep tight, don't let the bed bugs bite." or instructing my sister and I to make a wish whenever we spotted a falling star in the sky or upon seeing a white horse by making a fist and licking our thumb, then placing it in the palm of our other hand and then tapping the open palm with the closed fist. I remember my Birthday parties, going to the zoo, and wearing beautiful Halloween costumes she had made and making pictures from cloud shapes floating in the sky; or lying in bed on Sunday morning with my parents, reading the Sunday comics and sometimes she would have us keep our heads fixed and move our eyes to each corner of the room, for a sort of eye exercise game. My mother made-up this game to help my sister exercise her eyes. My sister's eyes were crossed at birth and she had a corrective operation at age three. After that, her eyes were weak and needed to be strengthened. My mother was also very artistic and could color pictures with crayons wonderfully and had a talent for writing poetry. She loved pistachio ice cream, watermelon, and chili dogs. My mother loved life and she taught my sister and I to do the same — to appreciate each day and all that it held. She was not one to love yard work and so my dad took care of the yard and my mother the house. And like her mother before her, the house was spotless. She also liked to redecorate the house, rearranging the furniture about every four months, so everything was constantly changing. As a family, we also spent time at the beach, although my mother never got in the water, she was afraid of it. All my friends in high school loved to come to my house - my parents were fun to be around. The family took summer vacations at Glacier Lodge near Bishop, California. My mother loved to fish and also enjoyed playing cards and games with family and friends. She also like to bowl and for some years was on a bowling team. The most important thing in my mother's life was her family. She was a great role model for my sister and I. All the major holidays were spent together even after my sister and I were married and had children of our own and even after I had moved to Northern California. She always took a great interest in everything that happened in my life and my sister's and she was the same with my sons and my sister's daughters. She always made me feel important and special and very protected. Once I and another student had been lost on a University wilderness outing for three days. And although, I was cold and hungry when the rescuers found me, I had not been afraid. I knew that my mother would find me no matter how far away or how lost I was, she would come and would not give up until I had been found. My mother had a saying, "Remember you are a Miller, you can do anything." (Having now started researching the Shawhan side of the family, I think some of the Shawhan genes, must have also given us the necessary courage when needed). It is this courage that has made life bearable without my mother, but I miss her everyday of my life and cherish my fond memories of her.

Clara Elizabeth (Betty) SHAWHAN and Sidney Walter GILES had the following children:

318 i. Juliann Elizabeth⁷ GILES was born August 24, 1939.

319 ii. Patricia Ruth GILES was born September 23, 1944.

260. Jack Vernon⁶ SHAWHAN (Leslie Lyon 169)¹⁵⁴ was born in Los Angeles, CA May 19, 1922. Jack died July 6, 1981 in Omaha, NE, at 59 years of age. He married Joyce Agnes HOFFMAN in Los Angeles, CA, October 8, 1947. Joyce was born in Denver, CO June 9, 1924. Joyce died January 25, 1987 in Brownsville, TX, at 62 years of age.

Memories (By Juliann Elizabeth Rankin-Clarke, niece); Jack Vernon Shawhan was born in the Pacific Hospital in Los Angeles, Los Angeles County, California. He was the youngest son and child born to Leslie Lyon Shawhan and Ruth Haynes (Hendrick) Shawhan. Jack Sr. stood over 6 foot, was very thin and quite handsome. From the time I was a small child I was always in love with my Uncle Jack, known as "Buster" to his family. I would always follow him around wherever he went and he called me his special girl. My uncle had a doll named Timmy when he was a child. By the time I came around, the doll was in sad shape, battered and without clothes. My uncle let me play with the doll and I would sometimes get to take it home. I never wanted to return it, only upon my Grandmother's insistence. I believe the doll was passed on to his eldest son, Jack Jr. My uncle also had a dog named Spot that looked just like the dog that was pictured with its head tilted listening to an old victrola. When my Uncle Jack went off to war, Spot and Timmy became my close companions — we missed him. My grandmother and mother would read his letters whenever they arrived. He sent me a Geisha doll from Japan. It had a red, yellow and white kimono and came in a wooden box. I shared my doll at school with my classmates. After my uncle returned from the war, he met Joy Agnes Hoffman while she was working in a cafe next to the Manchester Theater in Los Angeles. They were married October 8, 1947 and lived above the theater in a small apartment. I remember being invited to spend the weekend shortly after their marriage. Everyone was concerned about my accepting my uncle's new special girl. The only thing I can remember about that first visit is my aunt sending me to the store for Maxwell House coffee. But whatever happened I was to become as adoring of my Aunt Joy as I had always been of my Uncle Jack. Their first son, Jack Jr. (nicknamed Sneezy) was born in Omaha, Nebraska, where Aunt Joy's parents lived. Shortly after, they moved to a small house in Los Angeles. Then Tim was born. One Christmas Eve my mother was watching the boys while my uncle and aunt went off to Sears and Roebuck Co. to pick up bikes and wagons they had gotten the boys for Christmas. While they were away, there was a fire and their house and everything in it burned to the ground. It was a very sad time for all of us. My aunt and uncle moved into a new tract home very near our house in Pico Rivera. We spent lots of time together. I can remember many visits, always with my mom, dad, uncle and aunt sitting at the kitchen table talking about old times interlaced with lots of laughing. I loved to hear the family stories of days gone by, a way of transferring the oral history of the family down through the generations. My Aunt Joy would sometimes go swimming with me at the Montebello Plunge. She loved the water and was a very good swimmer. My aunt was Bohemian, a strong woman with a very strong presence. She had a wonderful figure and wore two piece bathing suits which were somewhat racy in those days. My aunt was also an expert diver. She would dive from the high board and everyone in the pool would stop to watch her, as she performed each dive. She had very long brown hair, that hung past her waist, that she wore, in either one thick braid, or two braids wrapped on her head. Uncle Jack and Aunt Joy had four sons - Jack Jr., Tim, Tom and Brad. They were all very lively and when they came to our house to visit, the car would pull up in front of our house, the car doors flew open and the four boys would come running, shouting for “Aunt Betts and Uncle Sid”. My mother always adored the boys. All four grew into very handsome men, all over 6 foot tall. Sometime in the fifties, my uncle came down with polio. There was an epidemic of polio throughout California and the nation. It was a long struggle — he spent some time in an iron lung. The recovery was slow and very hard on the family. Then as if that was not enough, Brad, their youngest son swallowed a bottle of aspirin. They almost lost him. He recovered but one side of his body was slightly paralyzed. When he was young and would smile, his mouth and eye would drop. I can still picture him that way and hear my mother saying how it made her heart ache. As an adult, Brad doesn’t seem to have any of the physical effects left. After this, Uncle Jack and Aunt Joy decided to move to Omaha, Nebraska, where my aunt came from, to be closer to her family. So in the middle fifties, they moved. On the car trip back, they experienced a terrible flash flood, but managed to escape with little damage to themselves and their possessions. My mother missed them enormously. We all did. My uncle and aunt bought some land and built their own home. They lived in the basement for years, building and paying for it as they went. I can still picture my Uncle Jack, who always got up before work, about 4 A.M., sitting at the kitchen counter drinking coffee, smoking and reading the paper. Over the years, we would visit when we could, which was not very often. I visited them with my own family a couple of times. My sons were not that much younger than my cousins, and the boys had lots of fun together. My last visit to see my uncle and aunt was when my uncle Jack was dying of brain cancer. My sister and I drove my mother and my sister’s two daughters back to Omaha. Although, it was a sad time, it was a happy time too; we were all together and it was a time to reminisce and listen to the family stories that my aunt, uncle and mother shared — and as always, lots of laughter and love. My Uncle Jack died July 6, 1981 and my aunt died also of brain cancer on January 27, 1986, she was living with her son Tom and his family at the time. I am very grateful for all the wonderful memories I have of them both.

H.R. grew up in Glendale, CA and graduated from Pomona College in 1943 with a music degree and as a member of the track team. He then entered the Navy and was assigned as a Gunnery Officer to LST 280 which participated in the June 6, 1944 D-Day invasion of Normandy. His ship was hit by one of a spread of four torpedoes fired by a German sub, but limped back to England. He was then reassigned to an LST in the Pacific, where he trained for the invasion of Japan and weathered a terrible typhoon. After the War, he moved to New York City and earned a Master’s Degree in music from Columbia University. After many years as a Math and English teacher, he became a junior high school principal before retiring to enjoy his favorite pastimes of playing the piano and organ. He’s also pursuing a life-long desire to acquire books dealing with early American history, a natural entry into his delving into the heritage of the Shawhan Family. He and his son, Peter, have been very helpful in tracing their family tree limb.

318. Juliann Elizabeth⁷ GILES (Clara Elizabeth (Betty) SHAWHAN 259)¹⁶² was born in Los Angeles, CA August 24, 1939. She married three times. She married Gary Ward TIMMERMAN in Las Vegas, NV, November 4, 1956. She married William Donald RANKIN in Pico Rivera, CA, March 2, 1968. She married Oliver Gilbert CLARKE in Oroville, CA, May 20, 1992. Oliver was born in McMinnville, OR April 18, 1935. At the moment of her birth, Juliann's mother always said that there was a shooting star that fell from the heavens; her comment may have been based on what happened when she was seven months pregnant with Juliann, when she had to have her appendix removed, a very dangerous operation in such a situation, to both the mother and the unborn child. Juliann was born at her maternal grandparents home, a four-plex at the Univ. of California, Los Angeles Campus. She attended elementary school in Los Angeles and high school in Pico Rivera, where she was a cheerleader, an honor student, and Homecoming Queen. Upon graduation she married her high school sweetheart, Gary Timmerman. She worked for several trucking companies. Her second marriage was to a high school principal, William Rankin. She also went back to school, earning an A.A. in Anthropology/Archaeology from Rio Hondo College. The family moved to northern California, in the beautiful resort town of Lake Almanor, where Juliann taught at Chester High School. Relocating to Durham, CA, she attained a M.A. in Anthropology from California State College in Chico. In 1986 Juliann earned a Masters degree in Library Science from San Jose State Univ. and now works as a librarian at California State U. In 1992 she married Oliver Clarke, a retired high school physics, math, and computer teacher. She enjoys reading, gardening, and traveling — she has visited all fifty states, Canada, the British Isles, the Americas, Japan, Russia, and China. She is also a recent member of the D.A.R. NOTE: Juliann has been an enthusiastic contributor to this Shawhan Family History project, providing vital statistics, bios, photos, etc. — the author much appreciates her support!
