Dear Irene:

I flew down to Texas and spent the holidays with Helen and family as usual. Arrived back home Friday night Jan. 8 wanted to be home for the sale up at the Stein farm. There was sure a big crowd and things sold rather high. The farm brought $54,225⁰⁰ and the personal property a little over $1,500⁰⁰. Several things sold for more than new items. As a matter of fact the lawyer said he was going home and call a sale and buy new goods. The auction man said he was going to stay at the hotel for a week, so as husbands, or wives, who had bought things too high, could not call him up and give him hell for letting their wives pay so much for things.
